VOL. IX—NO. 2681. NEW-YORK, TUESDAY, APRIL 24, 1860. PRICE TWO CENTS.

CHARLESTON CONVENTION.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE FIRST DAY.

Discord Among the Harmonious Democracy.

Mayor Wood in the Descendant.

Overwhelming Preference for Mr. Douglas

Strong Probabilities of his Nomination.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

CHARLESTON, Monday, April 23.

The Convention met at 12 o'clock. Much confusion attended its early deliberations. SMALLEY's voice was not heard twenty feet from the platform. During the first part of the prayer all was quiet. The latter portion was continually interrupted by conversation and moving.

The fight began early. All were prepared for it by the occurrences of the morning, for nearly all the delegations had held preliminary meetings, and stormy ones at that. That of Massachusetts was particularly so. Her Custom house clique triumphed. Great feeling is manifested in this delegation.

Mr. FISHER, of Virginia, took the floor at the close of the prayer, insisting upon his right to introduce a communication from the New-York contestants. JOHN COCHRANE denied his right. The Chair decided against FISHER, who replied that no power on earth could compel him to yield. The Chair's appeal to the House for support was sustained. Louisiana objected to COCHRANE's speaking. He was a contestant. PERRY WALKER, of Alabama, said "Mr. Chairman" forty-two times. The Chair declined to hear him at present. WALKER insisted. The Chair's appeal, as above, was sustained.

Mr. RUNNELS wanted to know who was Chairman. COCHRANE attempted to speak to a resolution calling for the appointment of Committees on Credentials; the Louisiana men objected. JOHN declined being put down in that way, and a rumpus ensued. The Chair sustained Mr. COCHRANE. Louisiana didn't like it; the Chair appealed to the House, and the House once more sustained the Chair.

Great confusion reigned. The House was crowded; no order was kept; the weather was hot; and members were cross.

The Douglas stock is ahead so far. Southern men are divided on many points. Harmony does not prevail in the Democratic Convention.

MONDAY, April 23—10 P. M.

The Committee on Permanent Organization had a stormy session this afternoon. Messrs. CUSHING, ORR and FLOURNOY were the prominent candidates for Chairman. Mr. CUSHING obtained a majority.

Mayor WOOD is arguing his case before the Committee on Credentials. The Convention will sustain the Richmond delegation. The Illinois contested case has been dropped for to-night.

The Committee decided that majorities must rule and delegations vote as unit. This occasions much indignation. Virginia's vote, cast in favor of the resolution permitting contested delegations to vote on organization, has damaged HUNTER. The extremists threaten to break up the Convention in case DOUGLAS is forced in.

An indignation meeting of editors and reporters, will be held to protest against SMALLEY's course towards the Press. DOUGLASS stock is up, and great pressure is sent from Washington and New-York in his favor. HOWARD.

CHARLESTON, Monday, April 23.

The Democratic National Convention assembled at noon.

There is a full attendance from every State in the Union.

The Convention was called to order by Judge SMALLEY, Chairman of the National Committee.

FRANCIS B. FLOURNEY, of Arkansas, was chosen Temporary Chairman, and returned thanks for the honor.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. HANCKEL, of Charleston.

WM. F. RITCHIE was appointed Temporary Secretary.

Mr. FISHER, of Virginia, offered a letter from the Wood delegation of New-York.

The reading of it was objected to by Mr. COCHRANE, of New-York, as not in order.

Considerable excitement ensued.

Mr. FISHER denied the right of the delegate from New-York to speak on the subject, and said that when the letter was read he had a resolution to offer.

Mr. COCHRANE demanded the reading of the resolution first.

The question was put to the Convention whether the letter should be read, and decided in the affirmative.

Mr. COCHRANE moved that the rules of the last Convention be adopted.

Mr. FISHER claimed that he had the floor.

Immense confusion and cries of "Order."

The President decided that Mr. COCHRANE was entitled to the floor.

Mr. FISHER would not be trampled upon. He had his rights and would maintain them.

Mr. CLARKE, of Alabama, protested against the decision of the Chair.

Confusion increasing.

Mr. WALKER, of Alabama, came forward, mounted the Clerk's table, and demanded that he should be heard, appealing from the decision of the Chair.

The question was put on the appeal, and the Chair sustained.

Immense cheering.

Mr. FISHER again rose, and offered to present the letter from the Wood delegation, with a resolution.

The President decided the reception of the letter out of order.

Mr. COX, of Ohio, offered a resolution to appoint a Committee on permanent organization.

Mr. BARKSDALE, of Mississippi, offered an amendment that the Committee shall consist only of members from States from which there is no contest.

Mr. RICHARDSON, of Illinois, spoke in favor of harmony, and urged gentlemen to keep calm and preserve order.

Mr. COCHRANE did not desire anything but a fair hearing.

Mr. COX, of Ohio, offered a resolution excluding only New-York and Illinois from participating in the organization—the entire delegations being contested.

Mr. CLARKE of Missouri, protested that the resolution was out of order—that no State should be excluded whose delegations have been admitted to the floor.

Cheering and excitement.

Mr. COX contended that those who were admitted to the floor had a right to participate in all the acts of organization except the formation of the Committee on Credentials

A long debate followed, participated in by Messrs. RICHARDSON, JUDGE, MEEK, of Alabama, and BARKSDALE, of Mississippi.

Mr. CESSNA offered an amendment that two Committees, one on Organization and one on Credentials, be appointed, Illinois and New-York to be excluded from the latter.

The previous question was called, and the resolution adopted, by Ayes, 250; Noes, 44.

Resolutions were introduced requesting the delegates from New-York and Illinois not to participate in the organization until the right to the seats of the delegates is settled.

A motion to lay the resolution on the table was carried—Ayes, 250; Nays, 44.

The States were called for the names of the Committee on Organization and Credentials, and were appointed by the delegations.

A resolution was offered requesting the credentials to be handed to the Secretary.

Mr. FISHER, of Virginia, demanded that FERNANDO WOOD's letter be now read and referred to the Committee on Credentials.

Mr. COCHRANE moved that it be received and referred to the Committee without a reading.

After much excitement it was adopted.

The vote on excluding the New-York and Illinois delegations from the Committee on Credentials was adopted, with the following negative votes: Maryland, one; Virginia, fifteen; Georgia, ten; Alabama, nine; Louisiana, six; Mississippi, seven; Texas, four; California, two. Balance all in the affirmative. Ayes, 244; Nays, 54.

On the motion to request them not to participate in the organization, the vote was nearly the same, except that Virginia voted in the affirmative, and Arkansas in the negative.

The credentials having been handed to the Committee, on motion the Convention adjourned at three until ten to-morrow.

CHARLESTON, Monday, April 23—P. M.

The Committee on Credentials are now in session, hearing arguments in the New-York case.

The following is a copy of the Protest presented to the Convention by the Hard-Shell delegates:

ST. ANDREW'S HALL, April 23, 1860.

To the Chairman of the National Convention:

SIR: The undersigned, Chairman and Secretaries of the Delegation from the State of New-York, representing the organization of the Democratic Party in said State, have been directed by the Delegation to present to the Convention over which you preside that, by the action of Mr. SMALLEY, Chairman of the late National Committee, they have been excluded from the Hall in which the Convention has assembled, and persons in no way entitled have been allowed to occupy their places. Therefore, in behalf of the delegation from the State of New-York, we protest against their exclusion, whilst the persons referred to who appear here as contestants to our rights are permitted to occupy our seats in advance of an investigation by the Convention, and whilst we claim no advantage over our opponents, we shall not submit to any advantage wrongfully obtained over us.

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servants,
FERNANDO WOOD, Chairman.
F. B. FOLLETT, }
G. J. TUCKER, } Secretaries.

The city is quiet to-night. There is no public speaking at head-quarters. The votes of the delegations to-day are regarded as indicating the nomination of DOUGLAS. All the Douglas delegates voted in favor of the Soft (New-York) delegation. The Committee on Credentials will report largely in favor of the Softs, and also in favor of the Illinois-Douglas delegates. It is believed the Softs will vote for DOUGLAS.

The thermometer is 84 degrees in the shade.

Alabama will demand a slave code, and an effort will be made to ballot for a candidate before the Committee on Platform reports.

The indications are that the Convention will adjourn by Thursday

THE TEXAS REGIMENT BILL.

The impression is that the vote on the Texas Regiment bill will not be reconsidered.

NOTHING FROM CHARLESTON.

General disappointment is felt here at receiving nothing from Charleston. Judge DOUGLAS is without anything of interest, beyond the selection of his particular friend, Mr. FLOURNOY, as temporary Chairman.

WHEREABOUTS OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Hon. ALFRED ELY has returned to his legislative post. Messrs. HOARD, of New-York, and TAPPAN, of New-Hampshire, are on a temporary visit to their homes.

A quorum of the members of the House remains here, and the time will be spent in delivering of speeches which, if not delivered, may spoil on hand.

ARMY NEWS.

Lieut. G. D. RUGGLES, Adjutant of the Second Infantry, is ordered to return to St. Louis from Fort Leavenworth.

Capt. A. W. REYNOLDS, Quartermaster, is ordered to relieve Capt. McLEAN as Dépôt Quartermaster at San Antonio. The latter has thirty days leave of absence, with permission to apply to the Department for an extension to five months.

Major THOMAS is authorized to require troops from Fort Cobb for the campaign against the hostile Kiowways and Camanches. Q.

THE ATTEMPTED DUEL.

It is reported to-night that the testimony of policemen will appear to-morrow, showing that the friends of Mr. POTTER sent policemen to arrest Mr. PRYOR; failing in that, to arrest Mr. POTTER, so as to prevent the possibility of fighting. Mr. CHISMAN is said to be engaged in getting this testimony.

A FIGHT IN THE CAPITAL.

At the preliminary election in the Fourth Ward of this city to-day, of the delegates to the Mayoralty Democratic Convention, the Irish and roughs opposed to Mr. BERRETT, the present Mayor, attempted to take possession of the polls. A fight ensued and the rowdies were driven off.

POLITICAL EXCITEMENT.

The Republican and Democratic Executive Committee rooms are crowded with Senators and Representatives, awaiting news from Charleston. There is much excitement. P.

From the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Monday, April 23.

It is the design of the State Department to place the Japanese Embassy under the charge of a Naval Officer. Capt. DUPONT will probably be assigned to this duty; whatever arrangements are made for their accommodation will be under his direction.

A report prevails that Senator DAVIS has written a letter, to be read, if necessary, to the Charleston Convention, declining the use of his name as a candidate for the Presidency.

The number of applications for passports at the State Department now averages two hundred a week, hence there is an unavoidable delay in issuing them as promptly as the persons immediately interested desire.

It is untrue, as has been stated, that Ex-Gov. WISE has been summoned as a witness before the Harper's Ferry Committee; such a course is not even probable.

Although the instructions to Mr. McLANE as Minister to China, issued more than six years ago, have just been made public, they are considered by statesmen here as interesting in view of the fact that they are in accordance with the policy pursued by the Administration through him toward Mexico. As to China he was entrusted with large discretion, and advised to establish "the most unrestricted intercourse between that Empire and the United States." It was considered most desirable that any commercial treaty he might be able to conclude should provide not only for reciprocal free trade in all articles of the growth, produce or manufacture of either nation, but for the transportation in vessels belonging to each. "Should the revolutionary movement be successful, and the political power of the country pass into other hands," the instructions continued, "you will at your discretion recognize the Government de facto, and treat with it as with the existing government of the country. If the empire shall be divided, and several governments be organized within its present limits, promising stability, you will present yourself to each as the American representative, and enter into treaties with them," &c.

Attorney General BLACK intends prosecuting SCHNABEL, on a charge of perjury, growing out of his testimony before the Covode Committee. His most intimate friends say he distinctly admitted the existence of the President's letter, recently published, but denied the existence of one of the character the witness described in the course of conversation, and which WALKER never even pretended to have in his possession.

It is further stated that Mr. BLACK, acting by the advice of friends, has made no reply to Mr. WALKER, but, in a note addressed to Mr. WALKER's friend, Senator BROWN, and Saturday delivered by Secretary THOMPSON, he denied the existence of any reason why Mr. WALKER should request him to go out of the District to receive a hostile message, even if he were not conscientiously opposed to that mode of adjusting differences.

Senator DOOLITTLE, of Wisconsin, left for New-York this afternoon, and will address the Republicans of Brooklyn, by invitation, on Thursday evening.

PROCEEDINGS OF CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Monday, April 23.

The Chair presented a message from the President, transmitting the instructions given to Mr. McLANE when Minister to China.

On motion of Mr. YULEE, of Florida, (Dem.,) a resolution was adopted calling on the Postmaster General for copies of the contracts executed with DANIEL H. JOHNSON and CORNELIUS VANDERBILT, respectively, for mail service between New-York and San Francisco, and New-Orleans and San Francisco, by way of the Isthmus routes, Panama and Nicaragua, together with the correspondence relating thereto.

After other unimportant business the Senate adjourned until Thursday.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WASHINGTON, Monday, April 23.

Mr. PHELPS, of Missouri, (Dem.,) was satisfied that there was not a working quorum present. He moved that when the House adjourn it be until Thursday next.

Mr. SHERMAN, of Ohio, (Rep.,) believed that there was a quorum in the City, and suggested that the House go into Committee in order to give gentlemen an opportunity for discussion of the Tariff and other questions. By this means business can be advanced as if there were a full House.

Mr. HUGHES, of Maryland, (Dem.,) hoped that the regular order would be pursued of calling upon the States for resolutions.

Mr. FLORENCE, of Pennsylvania, (Dem.,) said that if there was no other reason why this should not be done there was this, that if such resolutions were forced on their passage, there could not be that fair consideration which they ought to have.

The question was then taken on Mr. PHELPS' motion, and decided in the negative, by 24 against 112.

Mr. WINSLOW, of North Carolina, (Dem.,) rose to a question of privilege. On Friday last he observed in the columns of the New-York Herald the testimony of a person of the name of VAN DYKE, purporting to have been given before the Committee known as the Covode Committee, in which certain letters, purporting to have been written by the President of the United States to Mr. VAN DYKE, and from Mr. VAN DYKE to the President, appeared. Now, it is not true that this testimony, which appeared in the New-York Herald, was given before that Committee. These letters were never given in evidence before the Committee. I think it due to the House and country that this fact ought also to be known; that the publications, purporting to be evidence before the Committees of this House, from time to time, are many of them spurious. There is nothing in the letters referred to affecting anybody.

Mr. HOUSTON, of Alabama, (Dem.,) would like to know, from the Chairman of the Committee, or from any member of the Committee who could inform him, how it was that the testimony given before that celebrated Committee had found its way into the newspapers every day, almost immediately after the sitting of the Committee? He would like to be informed under what rule, under what practice or principle, the members of that Committee allowed the evidence taken before it to be made public before the evidence was complete? Was it the policy of this Committee to asperse and defame the character of high officers in the Government? [Loud cries of "Order."] If this Committee had been appointed for that purpose solely, let the fact be known. [Continued cries of "Order" from the Republican benches.] If the mission of that Committee is to slander—

[The gentleman's voice was drowned in a storm of cries of "Order" from the Republican benches.]

Mr. WINSLOW would answer the gentleman. He could not say how the testimony got out, but it certainly did get out in some shape or form. He had no reason to believe that any of his colleagues had connived—

Mr. FLORENCE, of Pennsylvania, (Dem.)—How did it appear, then?

Mr. WINSLOW—There might be three or four "black cats" in the committee-room. [Loud laughter.] He looked upon these investigations into the private correspondence of the Executive Chief of the country as a most abominable practice. He deemed it due to the House to refer to this correspondence, and to state that the letters purporting to have been given in evidence before the Committee had not been laid before that Committee at all. He could not, by his silence, permit this correspondence to go spuriously before the country. For himself, he could not notice anything in a newspaper which referred to himself merely. He was early taught that there were three classes of people he ought to avoid all controversy with—one class was the preachers, for they had the pulpit to denounce him from, while he had none to reply from; the next was the editors of papers, who had the columns of their journals to carry on a controversy, while he had none; the next class was the women, who would always have the last word. [Loud laughter.] He had never interfered with these classes, particularly the women. [Laughter.] That was, he had never interfered with them in an improper way. He did not want to suffer publications to appear in the newspapers, purporting to be a report of evidence given before a Committee of that House, which had not been given, without explanation, especially as the House was the only place where correction could be made.

Mr. COVODE, of Pennsylvania, (Rep.)—I want to say, in reply to the remarks of my colleague on the Committee, I do not understand him to intimate that any member of the Committee had furnished any of this evidence. I would state to the House that there was one occasion in which evidence appeared in the columns of the New-York Herald one day in advance of its coming before the Committee. [Laughter.] The correspondent was called upon, and a protest was made against his publishing evidence before it was presented to the Committee. I stated to him that I was willing he should get and publish the evidence as soon after it was given to us as he could. We sent for this correspondent, and qualified him, and he then testified before us that the witness called upon him three or four times, and finally gave him the evidence referred to by the gentleman from Alabama. As to the letters, they were handed in by Mr. VAN DYKE.

Mr. AVERY, of Tennessee, (Dem.,) made a speech in defence of Southern rights under the Constitution, and against what he characterized as Republican aggressions.

Mr. AVERY, in the course of his speech, referred in complimentary terms to the resolution, offered to the House some time ago by Mr. BLAKE, of Ohio, the preamble of which he read, the substance of which was to the effect that, whereas, holding property in man was contrary to nature and justice, against the principles of free government, and a notorious reproach to the country, throughout the civilized world, and a serious hindrance to republican liberty, resolved, &c. The resolution which followed, he said, was voted for by that gentleman's colleague, (Mr. SHERMAN,) and eight members of that party.

Mr SHERMAN, of Ohio, (Rep.)—The gentleman from Tennessee has referred particularly to me, and, therefore, I feel at liberty to interrupt him to say this much. The preamble which the gentleman has read was never read at all in the House. In the next place, that resolution, offered by my colleague (Mr. BLAKE) was simply for reference to the Committee on the Judiciary, with instructions to inquire into the expediency of reporting a bill to prohibit Slavery where Congress has the right to prohibit it. Another fact: Not fifteen minutes before the resolution was offered by my colleague, a gentleman from South Carolina (Mr. McQUEEN) offered a resolution to provide for the emancipation of the white laborers of the Northern States. I looked upon the resolution of my colleague as a very good offset to the resolution of the gentleman from South Carolina. But to show the difference: The resolution of the gentleman from South Carolina was received by the House by a unanimous vote, was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means, and is now before that committee for consideration. I will say further, that when any member of the House, I do not care who he is, introduces any proposition whatever, that is respectful in its language and courteous, I will vote to refer that proposition or resolution to any committee of the House that he may desire. It was on that principle that I did not object to the resolution of the gentleman from South Carolina. But the action of the sixty members who voted for that resolution was not a declaration on their part that they would interfere with Slavery in the slave States. I think there is not a member on this side of the House who is not now willing to make the declaration, broadly and openly, that he is opposed to any interference whatever with the relations of master and slave in the Slave States. We do believe that Congress has the power to prohibit Slavery in the Territories, and whenever the occasion offers, whenever the proper time arrives, whenever the question comes up, we are in favor of exercising that power, if necessary, to prevent the extension of Slavery into free territory. We are frank and open on this subject. But we never did propose, and do not propose, to interfere with Slavery in the Slave States. I hope the gentleman will put these observations in his speech.

Mr. AVERY—Certainly, Sir.

Mr. SHERMAN—So that the gentleman's constituents may see that we "Black Republicans" are not so very desirous of interfering with their interests or rights—that we are only desirous of preserving our own.

Mr. ASHMORE, of South Carolina, (Dem.)—Are you not in favor of abolishing Slavery in the District of Columbia.

Mr. SHERMAN—I have stated to my constituents, over and over again, that I am opposed to interference with Slavery in the District of Columbia. That is my individual position. The Republican Party never took a position on the subject. Some are for it and some against it. I have declared to my constituents, over and over again, that I did not think it proper to agitate the question on the abolition of Slavery in the District of Columbia, because I believe that this is the very paradise of free negroes. I believe that practically, though not legally, he is better off in this District than in any portion of the United States. There are but very few slaves here, and the number is diminishing daily. As an institution, Slavery exists here, and I am willing to leave it to the effect of time.

Mr. MORRILL, of Maine, (Rep.,) argued the revision of the tariff as a necessity, especially in view of the fact that the great bulk of the public debt falls due in 1868. After combating the doctrine of Free-trade, he said he would treat agriculture, manufactures and mining alike, as all contribute to the general prosperity. He explained the pending Tariff and Loan bill.

Mr. JONES, with the view of fixing the responsibility where it belongs, argued that the North three years after the adoption of the Constitution, commenced the agitation of the Slavery question by the presentation of petitions, following it up to the present time for the purpose of establishing a great sectional party to put Slavery under the ban. The Harper's Ferry raid was the legitimate fruit of these Anti-Slavery and treasonable teachings.

The Committee rose, and the House adjourned.

THE GREAT PRIZE FIGHT.

THE ARREST OF THE BENICIA BOY—HE IS HELD TO BAIL NOT TO FIGHT.

Correspondence of the New-York Times.

LONDON, Saturday, April 7, 1860.

The forthcoming fight for the championship of England has created an immense excitement in England, and as the day draws near for it to come off a perfect furore has been raised; even the wise legislators in council assembled have not deemed it beneath their notice to bring the matter forward in Parliament. Royalty itself has paid the Benicia Boy a visit, or rather his representative at the Olympic Theatre, where a farce, under the title of the B's, has been played with immense success, ROBSON taking the part of a student traveling through the country, his portmanteau marked with two B's, his initials, and at the hotel he was taken for the Benicia Boy, and received a great many attentions accordingly. This, of course, in ROBSON's hands created a great deal of fun. But to revert to the serious. Yesterday warrants were issued for the arrest of HEENAN, and he was taken at Trent Lock, near Derby. The following are the particulars:

"On Thursday afternoon last a detective officer of the Leicestershire constabulary, named CLARKE, arrived in Derby, armed with a warrant for the apprehension of HEENAN; but as the pugilist was 'quartered' in Derbyshire, it was necessary that the warrant should be backed by a Derbyshire magistrate. Consequently the signature of Dr. HEYGATE, of Derby, was quickly obtained, and at 10 o'clock on Thursday evening the Leicestershire officer, accompanied by Superintendent SHAW, of the Derby division, Sergeant LOWNDES, and police constable HALLAM, started from Derby in a trap, and proceeded to Trent Lock, which divides the counties of Leicestershire and Derbyshire, where they arrived about 1 o'clock on Good Friday morning. They put up at DEACON's public house, and remained until 5 A. M., when they proceeded to the Navigation Inn, Trent Lock, which is kept by Mr. RICE. A Trent ferryman let them into the house, and they immediately planted themselves at the foot of the bedroom stairs and asked for the landlord. He came, and they asked if HEENAN was not in the house? The landlord replied that he had been there on the evening previous, but he could not say that he was sleeping in the house. Sergeant LOWNDES and Police Constable HALLAM then went up stairs, and entered a bed-room. The bed was empty, but by the side of it was a shirt, trowsers and waistcoat. In the room, however, was MACDONALD, Mr. HUGHES, and another friend of HEENAN's. They said they did not know where he was. The officers searched every room up stairs for about an hour, and then returned down stairs. Directly afterwards a man named HENRY JACKSON, who keeps the lock-house on the Trent bank, came into the house, bringing with him a note written in pencil, which he handed to the landlord. The police were in plain clothes, and Superintendent SHAW said to JACKSON, 'Who is it from?' and he replied, 'HEENAN.' The note was as follows: 'I am waiting at the lock-house for my shoes; MACDONALD must bring them directly.' The police at once proceeded to the lock-house, which they besieged. The occupant however, would not admit them, up stairs, and stoutly denied that HEENAN was in the house. It was then agreed that Sergeant LOWNDES should go to Mr. SUTTON, of Shardlow, a magistrate living near, and get a search warrant, in order that they might go up stairs. About ten minutes after he had been dispatched on this errand HEENAN jumped through the bedroom window, and made a clear leap over the head of Police Constable HALLAM. He at once took to his heels, and was pursued by the officers. A regular steeple-chase ensued, but 'the line of country' being new to the American, and his bare feet being cut by the stones, he was compelled to stop, after going over two or three fields. Both he and his friends seemed very mortified at the capture. A trap was soon in attendance, and he was at once conveyed to Derby, a distance of ten miles. On the road he had a little 'chaff' with the police. He then said that he had not signed an agreement to fight SAYERS, and therefore his apprehension was illegal. HEENAN also said: 'I have been removed twice. Why don't they take SAYERS? I have been hunted about like a dog.' His arrival at Derby, about 10 A. M. on Good Friday, caused a great sensation, and a large mob congregated in front of the Town Hall, to which he was taken. He was at once put into the lock-up, and directly afterwards was visited by Mr. H. F. GISBORNE, a Derby magistrate, who ordered him to be placed in better quarters. Mr. HILTON, the head constable of the borough, very kindly took him to his own house, adjoining the Town Hall, where for the present he is comfortably quartered. During the day MACDONALD arrived, and Dr. HEYGATE, having been seen by Mr. S. LEECH, (from the office of Mr. GAMBLE, solicitor,) who appeared for HEENAN, agreed to take respectable bail for his appearance."

At 1 o'clock to-day the following telegraph reached us:

"HEENAN, the Benicia Boy, has just been bound over, himself in £250, and two gentlemen in Derby £125 each, for the term of six months. He is this moment at liberty, and looks well."

The magistrates at Newmarket have refused to grant warrants for the arrest of SAYERS, and he is still continuing his training. The fight will come off as originally intended on the morning of the 16th, at 6 o'clock. Tickets will be issued for some two hundred people, at three guineas each. HEENAN's course since he has been in England has not been very satisfactory to real friends. He has repudiated those that have been his strongest supporters, causing a great falling off in the good feelings previously existing for him as a man of honor. By the next mail we shall be able to give you full particulars of the result of the fight.

TELEGRAPHIC ACCOUNTS.

HEENAN was before the magistrate at Derby on the 7th, charged with the intention of engaging in a prize fight, thereby causing a breach of the peace. Mr. LEECH appeared in his behalf, and said HEENAN had never broken the peace in England, and had no intention of doing so. True, he may have made use of harsh language in the excitement of his capture, when his passion was aroused, but when he considered that he had been hunted out of eight counties, while his opponent, SAYERS, was allowed to go on with the greatest impunity, he did feel sore at the treatment he was receiving. He apologized if he had used expressions which he ought not. Two respectable gentlemen were ready to give bail to the amount required. Guided by the station in life of the parties, (in America, HEENAN was a blacksmith,) he hoped the Bench would assess the bail at a small amount. The Clerk answered that the Bench agreed to take HEENAN's own recognizance for £50, with two sureties in £25 each. [Loud applause.] He added that the authorities had no feeling beyond the preservation of the peace. It was stated by the Court that HEENAN could not further be interfered with anywhere unless he broke the peace. The sureties were promptly signed, and HEENAN and his friends left Derby for London.

Bell's Life was most indignant at the capture, which it attributed to HEENAN and his companions going to a place where they were almost certain of arrest. A subsequent edition exonerates HEENAN, and says he took all necessary precautions, employing men to sound the police, and put them off the track. This person deceived HEENAN and his friends, and gave information which led to the capture. Bell's Life indignantly scouts the idea that SAYERS or his friends caused the arrest, and states that HEENAN's party believe SAYERS utterly incapable of such conduct.

It was considered certain that the fight would come off on the day fixed, the 16th.

The sub-marine cable for Gibraltar will be ready by the middle of September.

The Atlantic Telegraph Company, says the London Telegraph of the 10th, have dispatched Capt. KELL, who left on Saturday for St. John's, Newfoundland, via Halifax, for the purpose of making a further attempt to bring their cable into working order. His first business, before ascertaining whether it tests perfectly between Newfoundland and Ireland, will be to lift nearly 50 miles of cable and take it ashore, which will enable him to convey the end to Newperlican, a place in Trinity Bay more than 50 miles from the original landing station. The object of this is to obtain a more suitable locality for the landing, and to lessen the distance to be telegraphed through, which is considered of great importance. Capt. KELL will return as soon as he has ascertained that all is right on the Atlantic side, and then continue operations at Valencia, which it is expected will commence about the end of June next.

FRANCE.

An Imperial Commissioner was traveling through the neutralized provinces of Sardinia, and is said to have been coldly received in some places.

The Government had reprimanded the Pays and Patrie for giving currency to rumors that England is blamable for the outbreaks in Spain and Sicily.

The Paris flour market was heavy and lower. Wheat was quiet and unchanged.

The fluctuations on the Bourse were slight; the Rentes closed on the 10th at f.69.90; market dull, but firm.

A new journal, the Correspondent, had appeared at Strasburg, as an organ of the French Government, and advocates the maintenance of the boundaries of France, Germany and Italy.

The answer of Austria to the circular of M. THOUVENEL on the annexation of Savoy, like that of Russia, raises no objection to the annexation, so long as it is the free concession of Piedmont, and not an appeal to universal suffrage. She desires the neutrality of Piedmont.

It appears to be expected that the opposition to the cession of Savoy and Nice will be pretty deter mined, though the number of votes against it can scarcely be large. It seems that Count CAVOUR was returned for eight different places, M. FARINI for ten, and Gen. GARIBALDI for three.

SPAIN.

The Emperor of Morocco had ratified the bases of peace. The following is the text as it appears in the Madrid Gazette:

"LEOPOLD O'DONNELL, Duke of Tetuan, Count of Lucena, &c., and MULEY ABBAS CALIPH, &c., duly authorized by her Majesty the Queen of the Spains and by his Majesty the King of Morocco, have agreed on the following preliminary bases for the conclusion of the treaty of peace that is to put an end to the war between Spain and Morocco.

ARTICLE 1. His Majesty the King of Morocco cedes to her Majesty the Queen of the Spains, in perpetuity, full possession and sovereignty, all the territory comprised from the sea, following the heights of Sierra Bullones, as far as the road of Anghera.

ART. 2. In the same manner, his Majesty the King of Morocco undertakes to concede, in perpetuity, along the coast of the ocean to Santa Cruz, the Pequena, the territory sufficient for the formation of an establishment like that which Spain possessed there formerly

ART. 3. His Majesty the King of Morocco will ratify, within the briefest period possible, the convention relative to the places of Melilla, El Penon and Alhucemas, which the plenipotentiaries of Spain and Morocco signed at Tetuan on the 24th day of August, 1859.

ART. 4. As a just indemnity for the expenses of the war, his Majesty the King of Morocco engages to pay to her Majesty the Queen of the Spains the sum of twenty millions of piastres. The mode of paying this sum will be stipulated in the treaty of peace.

ART. 5. The town of Tetuan, with the whole of the territory that formed the ancient pashalic of the same name, will remain in the possession of her Majesty the Queen of Spain as security for the execution of the obligation specified in the aforesaid article until the complete payment of the war indemnity. Immediately after the said payment shall have been made in full, the Spanish troops will evacuate the said town and territory.

ART. 6. A treaty of commerce shall be concluded, in which will be stipulated, in favor of Spain, all the advantages that would have been or shall hereafter be conceded to the most favored nation.

ART. 7. To avoid, in future, events like those that occasioned the present war, the representative of Spain at Morocco may reside at Fez or at the spot best suited for the protection of Spanish interests, and for the maintenance of good relations between the two States.

ART. 8. His Majesty the Emperor of Morocco will authorize the establishment at Fez of a house of Spanish missionaries, like that which exists at Tangiers.

ART. 9. Her Majesty the Queen of Spain will immediately appoint two Plenipotentiaries, who, with two others appointed by His Majesty the Emperor of Morocco, will have to draw up the definitive articles of the treaty of peace. These Plenipotentiaries will meet in the town of Tetuan, and their labors will have to be completed with the least possible delay, the time in no case to exceed thirty days, reckoning from this date.

LEOPOLD O'DONNELL,
MARCH 25, 1860. MULEY ABBAS,

The preliminary bases of the treaty of peace having been agreed upon and signed between Spain and Morocco, by LEOPOLD O'DONNELL, Duke of Tetuan, Captain-General-in-Chief of the Spanish army in Africa, and MULEY ABBAS, caliph of the empire of Morocco, and Prince of the Algarbe, all hostilities will cease from this day between the two armies, the bridge of Bureia being the line that is to divide the two armies. The undersigned will give the most peremptory orders to their respective armies, and severely chastise any one contravening them. MULEY ABBAS engages to prevent the hostilities of the Kabyles, and if by chance they should nevertheless commit any, he authorizes the Spanish army to chastise them, without the peace being considered to be thereby infringed.

LEOPOLD O'DONNELL,
MARCH 25, 1860. MULEY ABBAS.

Gen. ORTEGA, and three persons of the highest rank, had been arrested at Calandron. ORTEGA is to be tried at Tortona.

A small body of insurgents had been defeated at Bilboa previous to ORTEGA's act

A concordat had been concluded between Spain and Rome, and was promulgated.

Great efforts are making to capture Count MONTEMOLIN and his brother.

The boundaries of Ceuta have been amicably arranged. The value of the territory ceded to Spain is three hundred million reals.

ITALY.

THE POPE'S BULL OF EXCOMMUNICATION.

APOSTOLIC LETTER OF OUR MOST HOLY MASTER, PIUS IX., POPE BY THE GRACE OF GOD, BY WHICH THE PUNISHMENT OF MAJOR EXCOMMUNICATION IS INFLICTED ON THE INVADERS AND USURPERS OF SOME OF OUR PONTIFICAL PROVINCES.

PIUS P. P. IX.

To the eternal memory of this matter. As the Catholic Church, founded and established by the Lord Christ for the everlasting salvation of mankind, has acquired the form of a perfect society by its divine character, it ought, therefore, in fulfillment of its sacred ministry, to possess that freedom by which it may not be subject to any civil Power. And for thereare, in order to obtain that, the Church required those guarantees which were in accordance with the conditions and necessity of the times. It was, therefore, in accordance with Divine Providence, that after the fall of the Roman Empire and its consecutive division into several kingdoms, the Romish Pope, whom Christ has established as the chief and the centre of his whole Church, obtained temporal power. Therefore, it has been ordered by God in the wisest manner, that as such a great number and variety of princes exist, the Holy Pope should enjoy that political liberty which is so much wanted in order to exercise his spiritual power, authority and jurisdiction in the whole world, without any impediments. And, therefore, it was necessary that the Catholic world should not have any reason to suppose that the Romish Pope is subject to any influence of temporal powers, or biassed in the exercise of the religious powers which the Holy See has to fulfill over the greater part of the Christians. It is easily understood that the dominion of our Roman Church, although having the appearance of something temporal, nevertheless is really of a spiritual character, by the holy distinction which it enjoys, and by the close ties by which it is connected with all Christian affairs. But this does not prevent that all these things which conduce to the secular welfare of the peoples may be obtained by the Church, as the history of the temporal reign of the Roman Popes during so many centuries shows most clearly. The general good and welfare of the peoples being increased by the temporal power which we are alluding to, it is not astonishing that the enemies of this Church endeavor to weaken and to embarrass it by many intrigues and all kinds of attempts.

In these impious attempts they were vanquished sooner or later by God, who always defends the Church. The whole world knows already how, during these sad times, the adversaries of the Catholic and Apostolic See have made themselves detestable by their attempts, which were characterized by their lying hypocrisy, in trying to deprive the Holy See of its secular power. They could not obtain their end by an open attack and by force of arms, but only by false and pernicious principles, by cunning dissimulation in their conduct, and by maliciously provoking popular risings. They did not blush to counsel the peoples to sedition against their princes, which is clearly and distinctly condemned by the Apostle, when he says: "Let every soul be subject unto higher powers, for there is no power but of God, the powers which are ordained of God; whosoever therefore resisteth the power resisteth the ordinance of God, and they that resist shall receive to themselves damnation."* These wicked innovators, in attacking the temporal power of the Church and its temporal dominion, and in despising its venerable authority, go so far in their impudence as to feign esteem for the Church and obedience to her commands. And it is the more to be deplored that some of those on whom as sons of the Catholic Church, the duty was imposed to protect that Church and to maintain its power, have sullied themselves by their wicked acts. In these mischievous and perverse intrigues which we deplore, the Sardinian Government has the principal part, as it is generally known how much in that K

STEINWAY & SONS'
PATENT OVERSTRUNG GRANDS
AND SQUARE PIANOS
Are now considered the Best Pianos manufactured. Opinion of nearly all the greatest and most prominent Musicians and Artists regarding these Instruments:
The undersigned, having personally examined and practically tested the improvement in Grand Pianos, invented by H. STEINWAY, in which the covered strings are overstrung above those remaining, do hereby certify:
1. That as a result of the said improvement the voice of the Piano is greatly improved in quality, quantity and power.
2. The sound by Steinway's improvement is much more even, less harsh, stronger, and much better prolonged, than that realised in any other Piano with which we are acquainted.
3. The undersigned regard the improvement of Mr. Steinway as most novel, ingenious and important. No Piano of similar construction has ever been known or used so far as the undersigned know or believe:

The enlargement of the circulation of the Times is at the present moment so rapid as to render it imperative that advertisements intended for the daily issue should be sent in at the earliest possible moment. Announcements which fail to reach the office before nine o'clock P. M., lose all the advantages of classification under the heads to which readers are accustomed to refer. It is, therefore, quite as important to the advertisers as to ourselves, to have that hour the latest for the reception of their notices.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The National Democratic Convention, embodying full delegations from all the States, met yesterday at Charleston. It was called to order by Judge Smalley, Chairman of the National Committee, who nominated Francis B. Flournoy, of Arkansas, temporary Chairman. Mr. Flournoy was chosen by acclamation; and, with equal unanimity, William F. Ritchie, of Virginia, was made Secretary. After prayer, Mr. Fisher, of Virginia, arose, proposing to read a letter from the Wood Party, explanatory of their claims. He encountered the opposition of Mr. Cochrane, of New-York, who, after a severe struggle, succeeded in obtaining the floor, and defeating the attempt of Mr. Fisher. A resolution requesting the Chairman to nominate a Committee upon Credentials was then adopted. Upon a resolution to exclude the New-York Tammany delegates from the Committee, a vote was taken, which resulted 44 Ayes to 241 Noes. A vote requesting them to refrain from participation in the proceedings until the Committee had reported, was rejected by a vote almost identical. These votes are regarded as indicating the strength of Mr. Douglas in the Convention; and as predetermining the nomination. The Convention adjourned to meet this morning at 10 o'clock. It is understood that a portion of the men only from Georgia, Alabama, and Louisiana, are preparing to bolt, and name a straight-out Southern candidate. The Committee on Credentials was in busy session last evening. Among documents submitted to it, was a protest of Mr. Fernando Wood against the admission of the Soft delegation.

The simultaneous arrivals of the Australasian at Portland, and the Hammonia at this port, place us in possession of European files to April 11, and telegraphic advices to the 12th. The political news is without incident. In England, as here, the approaching prize fight was a topic of general discussion. Heenan had been arrested at Nottingham, and held to bail to keep the peace in a sum too small to have any influence in preventing the contest, which was to come off without fail at the time pre-fixed. The Atlantic Telegraph Company had dispatched an agent to Newfoundland to test the cable and shift its position to a different portion of Trinity Bay. This achieved, the general experiments at both ends were be resumed. Parliament was not in session. From France we learn that the French Commissioners, who had been canvassing Savoy had met universally with a chilly reception. Ant nexation, it was however anticipated, would meewith no serious resistance at the ballot-box. Af fairs in Northern Italy remained without change. The King of Sardinia was about to leave upon a tour through his newly acquired territories. In Naples the spirit of insurrection was in the ascendant. Beside the outbreaks recently reported from Palermo and Messina, a revolt had occurred in Naples itself, and it required the liveliest exertions of the royal army to repress the insurgents. The terms of the preliminaries of peace agreed upon by the commanders of the armies opposed in Morocco, have been published in the Madrid Gazette. They have been approved both by the Queen of Spain and the Moorish Emperor. There is little else of interest from Europe. Affairs in Japan are said to be much unsettled.

President Buchanan yesterday transmitted to the Senate copies of the instructions given to Mr. McLane when Minister to China. The Postmaster-General was called upon for copies of the contracts executed with Messrs. Johnson and Vanderbilt, respectively, for carrying the mails between New-York and San Francisco, and New-Orleans and San Francisco, viâ the Isthmus, Panama and Nicaragua, together with the correspondence relating to the contracts. For a time the House wavered as to the policy of attempting to transact business so few members were in attendance. Mr. Sherman suggested that time might be saved if gentlemen were willing to discuss the tariff and kindred topics in Committee of the Whole. But a motion of Mr. Phelps that when the House adjourn it be to Thursday, was vetoed by the very decided vote of 112 to 24, and a brief discussion ensued regarding the propriety of the publication of testimony taken by the Committees of the House before it had been completed. An instance was cited where documents purporting to have been elicited by one of the Committees appeared in one of the journals of this City before they were submitted in Washington. The only explanation Mr. Winslow could give of the matter was that there must be black cats in the committee-rooms. The House then went into Committee of the Whole. Mr. Avery defended Southern rights from Republican aggression, and Mr. Morrell argued that the revision of the tariff was a necessity, that the part of the public debt which falls due in 1868 may be met.

Advices from Venezuela to April 3, represent the rebel forces as confident of success, although some of their leaders had experienced reverses. Calderon had surrendered himself to the Government forces, but Falcon, having received supplies from New Granada, was reorganizing his forces, and Sotillo was preparing to attack Maturin, Barcelona and Cumana. The British Vice-Consul, Mr. Frederick Stacey, had been convicted of conspiracy against the Government, and sentenced to perpetual banishment. A revolution, with Gen. Mosquera at its head, had broken out in New Granada.

The trial of Rev. Mr. Harden was continued on Saturday at Belvidere, N. J. Among the witnesses examined was Rev. H. W. Hunt, who testified regarding the demeanor of the prisoner at the funeral of his wife, at which Mr. Hunt officiated. Rev. Martin Herr, Caroline W. Bell, John J. Bell, Thomas Parks and John Parks, a lad 14 years old, were also called by the prosecution, and testified to the conduct of Mr. Harden in greater or less detail. Letters were also submitted in evidence, which bore strongly on the criminality of the accused. Yesterday, Mrs. Dorland, Mr. Harden's mother-in-law, was on the stand. A strong point in her testimony was the haste Harden exhibited in having his wife buried.

The Board of Aldermen, last evening, adopted a resolution directing the City Inspector not to transfer more stalls in any of our markets until further notice. An appropriation of $2,500 was made to pay the expenses of the Committee appointed to attend the Sanitary Convention, about to convene at Boston. The additional appropriation of $250,000 for the Central Park was concurred in unanimously. The resolution to appropriate $25,000 for the reception of the Japanese Embassy was amended to read $30,000, and then, after a long debate, it was laid on the table. The Board of Councilmen called upon the Croton Board for a list of names, residences, salaries and positions of all their employes, and also for information as to whether any of them hold other positions under the Municipal or Federal Governments. Company E, 79th Regiment, was allowed the use of a drill room in Jefferson Market on Friday evenings. An invitation to view the new fire-alarm apparatus at work was accepted. The Comptroller was authorized to issue bonds to raise money to supply the deficiency caused by delay in collecting assessments. The deficiency is $415,000 19.

At the meeting of the Police Commissioners yesterday, Mr. Bowen stated that the new Sanitary Police is already at work. Six or seven tenement-house owners have been ordered to cleanse their premises, and the work of renovation will be carried on so as to prepare the City for the approach of Summer.

The St. George's Society celebrated its seventy-fourth annual Festival in Delmonico's last evening. The demonstration, though comparatively shorn of its usual interest, so far as it may be regarded as an indication of national opinion, was certainly not lacking in conviviality.

The Stock Market was again quite unsettled in prices yesterday, influenced by the English news adversely in the forenoon, but made somewhat steadier by the Bank Return in the afternoon. New-York Central closed 79½@¾ cent. The Western Stocks ¼@½ cent. lower than the close on Saturday. The Bank return shows a reduction of nearly a million and a half in Loans, with a moderate falling off in Specie. Exchange rose to 109¼. No change in Money.

Flour was decidedly brisker, and State brands were firmer. Wheat was in moderate request. Corn was quiet, as were likewise Cotton, Molasses, Naval Stores, Metals, Rice and Tallow. Sugars and Whisky were more freely dealt in. A fair inquiry prevailed for Coffee, Hay, Hops and Linseed Oil. The freight engagements were restricted.

The Charleston Convention.

The Charleston Convention, "great parent" of Democratic measures and of Democratic men, began its labors yesterday in the manner usual with such bodies—by doing nothing, or next to nothing at all. It contented itself with attacking, without solving the important problem of organization; and if we are to draw any inference from the style of these preliminary proceedings to the future of the Democratic canvass, in the coming Presidential contest, the final organization of the Convention will only be accomplished at the expense of the disorganization of the party itself. The National Committee, indeed, preserved yesterday the outward forms of discipline, and carried the body of the Convention, with its own programme, against the stormy remonstrances of a clamorous section. The regular delegations from New-York and Illinois were confirmed in the provisional possession of the floor, to which the Committee had admitted them, but excluded from action upon the organization of the Convention; and the attempts of one or two "Wise men" from Virginia to force a letter from Mayor Wood upon the consideration of the inchoate body were defeated, Hon. John Cochrane, of this City, battling stoutly against them. But the temper in which these attempts were made and met was anything but "harmonious," and prefigures an intensity of personal animosity in the decisive struggle for the nomination, never before exhibited so openly in any national gathering of the Democracy.

It is tolerably clear, too, that this animosity will be concentrated both by sectional and personal influences against Mr. Douglas. The votes yesterday taken virtually represent the coalition of Gov. Wise, Mr. Slidell, Mr. Gwin, and Mr. Clay, of Alabama, against the Illinois Senator. Thus far, this coalition reveals a much less formidable front than had been anticipated, falling short by some forty votes of the power to block the action of the Convention under the two-thirds rule. The comparative meagreness of the reports which have reached us from Charleston, when contrasted with the fullness of the details which were flashed to us four years ago, over the wires from Cincinnati, ought, perhaps, to have been expected. It is one of the incidental inconveniences of the selection of the Palmetto City for the assembling of the Democracy. But it makes it difficult to divine the probable course of events, and leaves nothing very plain at this distance, but the unusual severity of the intestine dissensions which threaten the heretofore well-disciplined Democracy.

If the preparations of the great political bodies for the impending campaign should result in a complete discomfiture and abandonment of the whole system of nominating Conventions, the gain to the country from this annihilation of an irresponsible and unconstitutional power, which has gradually drawn all the life away from the natural organs of the popular will, would be so vast and permanent, that perhaps the most patriotic thing which the Democrats at Charleston assembled can do, will be to break up in the hopeless and angry confusion towards which they appear to be drifting.

Foreign Diplomacy in Mexico.

The whole weight of European diplomacy in Mexico seems to have been thrown into the scale of priestcraft and tyranny. When Mr. McLane, a year ago, recognized the Juarez Government, as both de jure and de facto in possession of power, it seemed almost certain that the representatives of foreign Powers would yield to the pressure of events, and take steps for the protection of their own citizens who were living in Mexico. This expectation has been disappointed, and we see all the Ministers from European States doing their utmost to crush the Liberal cause.

M. de Gabriac, the representative of France and Spain, has been resolute and consistent in his efforts to sustain the monarchists. To this end he has used all the prestige and power of his high office; and as the agent of Jesuits and priests, he has left no stone unturned for the accomplishment of purposes which, if Christianity and Freedom mean anything, never can be tolerated except by Hottentots and Thugs. He has, on various occasions, given the French Admiral at Vera Cruz peremptory orders to bombard that city, the seat of the Constitutional Government of the country, and he has been open and furious in his denunciations of American influence and interference in the Republic. During the progress of these events Mons. Gabriac has not forgotten his own private interest, but following the example of too many of his predecessors, he has traded largely in the blood of the Mexican people, and filled his pockets at their expense. Notwithstanding this action on his part has brought ruin upon French interests in Mexico—although French citizens in that country are abused and outraged in every possible manner, not only by the faction sustained by Gabriac, but by Gabriac himself, and notwithstanding memorial after memorial, and petition after petition, for more than two years, have been forwarded to the Emperor Napoleon by the French citizens in Mexico, setting forth their grievances and praying for relief and protection, the French Government takes no heed of these representations, but fully sustains its Minister, and heartily coöperates with Spain in strengthening the hands of the party which is openly at war with everything liberal and progressive in Mexico. So much for French and Spanish diplomacy in that country at the present time.

English diplomacy has always been the most potent in Mexico, and until the withdrawal of Mr. Ottway, the representative of England was quite as active and unscrupulous in sustaining the monarchical faction in the City of Mexico as the representative of France and Spain. The English Minister had also the same sharp eye to his own private interest, and fairly rivaled his French and Spanish contemporary in reaping personal profit from the sufferings and oppression of the Mexican people. In common with French interests, the interests of Englishmen in Mexico suffered to a ruinous extent by reason of the outrageous course of their Minister. English citizens were assassinated, robbed, abused and expelled from the country by the very faction Mr. Ottway acknowledged and sustained, and these very acts were by him openly approved. But the Home Government was finally compelled to give way to the representations and petitions that came pouring in from English residents in Mexico, and Mr. Ottway was with apparent reluctance withdrawn, and Mr. Mathews, Secretary of Legation, remained as Chargé. The Secretary happened to be a high-toned gentleman, an experienced diplomat, and fully competent in every respect to sustain English interests in Mexico. No sooner does this gentleman find himself the official representative of England than he adopts a course directly opposite to that of his predecessor. English interests at once begin to revive, and such has been the vigor, determination and rectitude of Mr. Mathews' proceedings, that he commands the entire confidence and friendship of his own fellow-citizens; and though he incurs the hatred of the Church faction, he enjoys a higher respect and wields a greater power in that quarter than Mr. Ottway could ever claim.

But scarcely have English interests, and, to some extent, American interests, in Mexico begun to feel the good effects of his policy, than the news comes that this gentleman is withdrawn, and that Mr. Wyke is appointed in his place. The change is regarded with shame and apprehension by Englishmen in Mexico,—and is welcomed by none but the faction in whose interest it has been made.

More recently, a Minister from Prussia had made his appearance in the Mexican capital. This official hastened to recognize the Miramon Government, and, in his active support of the same, he vies, according to all accounts, with Gabriac.

This is the present position of European diplomacy in the Republic of Mexico. We find the European Ambassadors in a very curious and anomalous position. France is carrying out a policy there directly opposed to those principles which the Emperor claims to represent in Europe; and, by this policy, French interests in Mexico are totally ruined, and French citizens are compelled to leave the country. So with England. Her policy in Mexico is directly at war with those principles of Christian civilization which mark her progress at home, and which she boasts of having aided and advanced wherever her influence has been felt throughout the world. The party which she sustains in Mexico is hostile to freedom, to commercial progress, to religious toleration, and to every principle which marks the progress and the hopes of the age. That Spain should espouse this cause is not surprising; and even from France it is not wholly inexplicable. Both are wedded to the Catholic Church, and both sustain its authority whenever it does not conflict with their own ambition. England, however, has no such excuse for ruining her citizens resident in Mexico—for hazarding English investments amounting to a hundred millions of dollars in that country, and for throwing away the very large and lucrative commerce which she is sure to enjoy under a peaceful and liberal order of things.

The common aim of the European powers seems to be to offset and destroy American influence in Mexico. One would suppose that the American people could unite in resistance to such an effort. But the fact seems to be otherwise. The Republican Party in the Senate either does not appreciate the opportunity offered for extending the commerce and enlarging the beneficent and legitimate influence of our institutions abroad, or else it prefers the triumph of a faction to the welfare of the country. In either case, its action is at war with the professions of liberality and intelligence which are so loudly urged on its behalf.

Our Italian Mission.

We trust that the Committee of the House of Representatives which has been directed, in compliance with a resolution offered by Mr. Burlingame, of Massachusetts, to inquire into the expediency of raising our diplomatic post at Turin to the rank of a mission of the first class, will lose no time in acting upon this matter.

Sympathy with Italy in the noble exercise of her new-found independence is so obvious a duty of the United States, that we owe it to ourselves not to be unnecessarily behind-hand with the liberal powers of Europe in taking all proper steps to make the reality of that sympathy felt by the Italian people. To the Sardinian crown in especial we hold, in common with the whole New World, a sort of filial relation; for it is to a son of one of the fairest provinces of Victor Emanuel that our continent is indebted, under Providence, for the distinguished honor of our presence upon its shores. Moreover, by the annexation of Tuscany, the birth-place of the adventurer who surreptitiously fastened his own baptismal name upon us, has become a part and parcel of the kingdom always great in heart, and now great in power also, which we are now in a position to serve so substantially and yet so simply. The latest intelligence from Europe informs us that King Victor was about to proceed on a tour throughout the States which have so happily and quietly passed under his sceptre; and that he would be accompanied in his tour by the Representatives of France and England, whose presence in his suite will be a visible indorsement, in the sight of all men, of the mighty change which has been accomplished in the condition of Italy. It is much to be regretted that the present Minister Resident of the United States at Turin should have earned for himself a reputation which makes his absence on this occasion altogether desirable; and the best thing that we can now do is to wipe out the memory of Mr. Daniels, and his epistolary efforts, as rapidly as possible, by sending to the new Italian Court an Envoy at once of more exalted official rank, and of more creditable personal character.

It is not very easy to ascertain on what principle the scale of our diplomatic hierarchy is arranged. Ambassadors we have none; but the distribution of our Legations of the first and second class seems to be altogether arbitrary. It cannot be founded upon the relative importance of different countries in their commercial intercourse with the United States; for we send an Envoy Extraordinary, (in one too famous case the most extraordinary of all possible envoys) to the Court of Prussia, with which country our commercial exchanges amount to about $240,000 per year, while we put off Sweden and Norway with a simple Minister Resident, although our Scandinavian trade is nearly ten times as large as our Prussian. We cannot be guided in determining our appointments by the immediate political importance of a well-established official intimacy with the different Governments to which our agents are accredited. For in this case we should hardly send an Envoy to Peru, and limit New Granada, directly at our doors, on the route most important to our Pacific empire and to our relations with European colonial Powers, to a Minister Resident.

But, whatever be our rule, or want of rule, in these matters, Sardinia, as at present constituted, clearly deserves to be put upon a diplomatic level with Prussia and with Spain, with Brazil and with Chili. Our commercial intercourse with the countries now united under the new Italian monarchy is more than twice as great as with Chili, more than twelve times as great as with Prussia, equals our traffic with Mexico, and has been growing since 1852 more rapidly than our commerce with either Brazil or Spain. Moreover, the marvelous mercantile genius of the Italian race, to which the civilized world owes the whole initial machinery of modern commerce, from the compass of the mariner to the ledger of the banker, has now but just entered upon an entirely new stage of development. The whole littoral of the Tuscan Sea, from Leghorn to Ventimiglio, has now been thrown open to the stimulating influences of freedom; and backed by the resources of Central Italy, from Ravenna to the Alps, the commerce of the Sardinian flag must rapidly take its place in the front rank of national exchanges. We may judge, in some measure, of the pace at which this development is likely to go on, from the strides which the single City of Genoa has made during the last few years, under the wise and beneficent administration of the actual Sardinian Government. In 1852, 68 steam vessels carried on the whole steam trade of that city. This number rose to 217, in 1853; to 363, in 1854; and to 397, in 1856. Between 1855 and 1857, the dock-yards of Genoa launched 201 vessels, of an aggregate capacity of 44,539 tons; and the tonnage owned by this ancient mistress of the commerce of the Black Sea, revived after so many ages of decadence and decay to play once more her part upon the deep, is actually greater than that of any other single port in Europe, excepting London and Liverpool. It equals one-fifth of the merchant-navy of France, one-half of the merchant-navy of Austria, two-fifths of the merchant-navy of Holland, and surpasses the total tonnage of Russia and the Hanseatic Cities.

Our own commerce with the new Italian State needs only to be judiciously fostered to make decided and peculiar progress. For the movement of manufactures in Italy will not lag behind the movement of commerce. The tariff adopted by Cavour in 1854, admits almost all raw materials free of duty into the Kingdom; and the importations of cotton into Sardinia have already attained an important figure. Thirty-five thousand persons are occupied in the cotton factories of Genoa alone. Meanwhile, our own cotton fabrics may very successfully compete with those of England in the Italian markets now about to be thrown open. These are but a few of the strictly commercial considerations which make the change proposed by Mr. Burlingame something more than desirable.

Upon the political and moral motives which should determine its immediate adoption, it can hardly be necessary for us to enlarge.

The Patent Laws.

There is a bill before Congress to amend the Patent Laws. There is room for vital change and improvement, and few public measures are of greater importance, since a comprehensive, reliable and healthy system of protecting inventions lies at the foundation of the success of a commercial age. It is proposed to dispense with models, whenever the Commissioner can do without them. Now since models do not always agree with the specifications and drawings, they are frequently a source of inconvenience to those searching after the whole truth, as in case of patent suits; and since drawings and specifications can and should thoroughly define inventions in a more complete and imperishable form, models are positively useless,—their cost being probably greater on the average than that of specifications, drawings and Government fees, they are an unnecessary tax on inventors; and as they are not portable, what information they do give is at the cost of a journey from the antipodes, it may be, to Washington. They are useless and inconvenient lumber in the office, and for each of the reasons stated they should be abolished altogether.

An indispensable, an elemental feature in a good patent system, is the wide dissemination of complete information as to what has been done, so that inventors, capitalists and manufacturers may not waste time and money in the revival of plans which are old, and therefore valueless to them as investments. Our Government, indeed, jealously provides by law that inventors shall give full information to the office, so that ordinary workmen can construct their inventions from the specifications. And the information so furnished is then consigned to the oblivion of the archives. Does the office publish annual reports? They are a libel on the very name of publication. Their abstracts of specifications are meagre, and oftentimes totally inadequate and useless, and their illustrations are simply barbarous. And such as they are, they rarely fall into the hands of the men who really need them, but lumber up the shelves of favorites and politicians. Indeed, the Patent Office itself is shamefully ignorant of what has been done. It rejects a device to-day, and a year afterwards grants a patent to another applicant for the same device. So unjust are many of its awards, and so ridiculous are many of its rejections, that the whole system of its sitting in judgment upon the novelty of inventions oftentimes appears hopeless.

But the inventors can obtain copies of patents from the office! This is liberal, certainly. If one invents an improvement in the steam-engine, he can get copies of five hundred patents, at from five to ten dollars a-piece, and thus obeaply inform himself as to the novelty of his own device. But he cannot copy these himself from the books at the office—that would leave the clerks and draftsmen without employment. He may look at them, and remember every word and every line—if he can. Meanwhile France has published annual reports, well illustrated, from which all concerned can learn exactly what has been done. And England has now published all the specifications of patents issued from its office since 1617 down to the present time, the drawings engraved of uniform size—16 by 22 inch pages. All the information in the office is thus diffused through public and many private libraries; it is sold by booksellers, and each specification can be bought separately; so that any inventor or interested party can have just what he wants, by ordering from the numbers, at a very moderate price. As a rule, on the contrary, inventors in this country can learn nothing definite without great expense, and they cannot learn all they require, even after a search among the rubbish of the office. What has come into general use they can indeed ascertain. What proportion of the monopolized inventions and combinations do come into general use? In England, all the scientific newspapers can get and do publish abstracts of specifications, and thus disseminate this most useful information. To buy such matter from our Patent Office would break the London Times.

There have been 21,011 rejected applications to the American office since 1842, and there have been but 21,863 patents granted. Each of these rejected cases has paid for its model, drawings, specifications, agents' services, and the Government fees. It is likely that these have wasted more than a million of money; and the waste of time, neglect of regular business, disappointment and distress thereby occasioned, can hardly be represented in figures. All this to keep the office informed and the public ignorant.

The bill before Congress contains no remedy for these evils. But we learn that there is a movement to urge upon Congress the new English system of publishing the specifications in full, at the expense of the inventors. This will cost them far less than models, and there would be no comparison as to their relative value. It is proposed, as an inducement to furnish well-written specifications, that the proceeds of the sales of the book should be divided among inventors in proportion to the merits of their articles. Thus we should have something more readable and useful than the verbiage usual in such documents.

The reduction of the Government fees in case of foreign applicants would result advantageously, as well as being fair and decent. Many valuable British inventions are never introduced here, because foreigners cannot give them their personal attention, and will not always risk $500, and the cost of models and attorney's fees, in the hope of local aid and interest. Of course nobody will try to introduce such inventions if they are not protected; and as to their being adopted on their merits by our own practitioners, and the managers of manufacturing and other enterprises, that is out of the question, for these worthies will hardly look at our own patents, under the incessant appeals of their inventors and owners, till they are at last driven to it by the necessities of the times. These and other considerations involved by this important bill, should merit the earnest and studious attention of our legislators.

Miscellaneous.

—The intrinsic worth of woman is fully appreciated in Richmond, Va. From the report of a late auction sale we learn that the black "fair sex" were valued and sold as follows: Girls, 13 to 14 years old, $1,150 to $1,200; women, $1,200 to $1,300. What a pity that the "girls" and "women" who throng our streets by night, with painted faces, had not colored their faces black instead of imitating the hues of the lily and rose, and transported themselves to Richmond before entering upon a life of shame. It would have saved them the sad necessity of staining their souls.

—The portraits of distinguished personages, given in the illustrated weeklies, may all be recognized—by consulting the name affixed. Hon. Martin J. Crawford has suffered considerably in this respect. And we venture to say that if Miss Effie Carstang, of St. Louis, brought a suit for libel against all our City pictorials, she would recover more damages than from her breach of promise suit. For Miss Effie is, in reality, a very good-looking woman, not at all like the caricatures that are labeled with her name.

— Dr. Winship, the strong man of Athens, is winning laurels by "putting up" a dumb-bell weighing 180 pounds. The Doctor will find that it is much easier to put a large dumb-bell up than to put even a small talking belle down.

—Heenan, on his recent arrest in England, was only placed under £50 bonds. Such bonds as these cannot bind the muscles of the American Eagle.

Dinner of the St. George's Society.

SPEECHES, SONGS, TOASTS AND A JOYOUS TIME IN GENERAL.

The reputed birthday of St. George, who has been adopted, without any consultation whatever with him as to his proclivities in the matter, as the patron saint of England, was celebrated last evening in Delmonico's, by the benevolent society which bears his name.

The biographical paradox by which a native of Cappadocia was made to stand sponsor for a country on which he never set foot, is one of those anomalies which defy human scrutiny. At all eventst he had no reason to be ashamed of his "sons," whether legitimate or otherwise, who met to do honor to his memory last night. The dinner lacked in nothing that could satisfy the most exacting appetite or gratify the most fastidious taste. Dr. Beales presided. Among the invited guests were Rev. Geo. C. Pinnell and Rev. Dr. Vinton, the chaplains; Rev. T. J. Shearer, of Dover, N. H.; Mr. Archbald, the British Consul at this port; Mr. R. W. Russell, one of the New-York correspondents of the London Times; Mr. John Johnson, Vice-President of the St. Andrews Society; Mr. Jacob Windmuller, Vice-President of the German Society; Mr. W. C. Barrett, of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick; John R. Broadhead, of the St. Nicholas Society; Commodore Breese, of the Brooklyn Navy-Yard; Philip Phythian, Secretary to the Board of Deputies of the various Benevolent and Emigrant Societies, and Ex-Judge Whiting. The whole assemblage numbered about one hundred gentlemen.

The music was contributed by a delegation from Dodworth's Band, and a choir, of which Mr. T. L. Jephson was pianist.

After the singing of the Non Nobis Domine, and previous to proposing the first regular toast,

The President rose and said, that he once more congratulated the members of the Society on the recurrence of their national festival, and he trusted they would enjoy it heartily and cordially together, and that they should have many other opportunities of seeing each other in celebrating the same occasion. ("Hear.") He would thank them once more for the oft-repeated honor of being elected to the Chair. He was well aware there were many gentlemen amongst them who were fitted for the honor, but he was certain there were none who had the welfare of the Society more at heart than he. [Hear, hear.] He would also congratulate them on the good they had effected in the distribution of their country, and begged to assure them that not only had they done good to themselves, but they were the cause of good being done by others. He was happy to say that their example in forming a society to aid their poor and destitute countrymen was being followed throughout the United States. Within the last week applications had been made for copies of their constitution in order that sister societies might be formed in Cincinnati and Albany. [Applause.] He felt that he ought also to thank the members for the liberal manner in which they had come forward with their subscriptions during the past Winter, by adding to the funds of the Society, which had been terribly broken down by the numerous claims that had been made on their treasury. He wished to call particular attention to the state of their permanent fund. It was the object of their late excellent treasurer so to increase it that the interest arising therefrom should be adequate to all the demands on the Society. One of their most respected, if not one of their oldest members, had contributed a thousand dollars for that purpose, and another had proposed to donate another thousand, so that, with the addition of $800, it would amount in all to $10,000. He (Dr. B.) did not wish, however, to be understood as requiring of the members to put their hands into their purses now. He considered the union of the various benevolent societies of this City to protect foreign emigrants from the treachery and frauds practised upon them as a most laudable movement, and claimed for the St. George's Society a preëminence in the deliberations of that association because of its representatives having been elected to prominent positions therein. [Hear.] He wished further to call attention to the fact that the Church of St. George the Martyr—(he spoke of this now because some misapprehension existed on the subject)—that that Church had nothing to do with that Society, but indirectly the Society had a great interest in its welfare. [Hear.] It originated in the bosom of the Society, and he would say, without egotism, he hoped, that he had had, in conjunction with the British Consul, the privilege of obtaining four free beds for English emigrants in St. Luke's Hospital. They had secured a preponderance in the representation of the Directorship of that institution, by the election to it of some of the Society's most influential members. They had, however, a more jovial side to the meetings of their Society than the mere hospitable part of. They met here annually to renovate their feelings of affection for their mother country. [Cheers.] He was convinced that England still possessed their warmest sympathies and their best devotion. England was now engaged in cultivating the arts of peace, which was a more glorious occupation than that of war, but in promoting peace, she was the better enabled to exert her efforts for any struggle that might come, and come what may, England, with the blessing of God, was safe.

The first and second toasts, "The Day, and all who honor it," and "The Queen," were applauded enthusiastically, and followed by appropriate music.

A congratulatory despatch was received from the Albany Society, to which the Secretary was empowered to reply.

The toast of "The President of the United States" elicited no very extravagant demonstrations of approval.

"Her Majesty's Ministers" was replied to by Mr. Archbold, the British Consul, who asserted that the only bulwark of freedom in the world was the Constitution of Great Britain; and that, compared with it, all others tended either to tyranny or anarchy.

The toast of "The Mayor and City of New-York" was not proposed, there being no municipal representative present.

To the toast of "The Armies and Navies of Great Britain and the United States," Commodore Breese, whose appearance was loudly applauded, replied by expressing his sense of the cordiality with which the sentiment just proposed had been received, and the pleasure which he experienced in reciprocating it. He concluded by proposing the following toast: "The gallant Navy of Great Britain, which has borne in triumph and honor to every clime and sea the glorious flag of Old England—the Red Cross Banner of your Patron Saint."

In response to the formal toast of "Our Sister Societies," Mr. Johnson, of St. Andrew's, was the first to speak. On behalf of the Society which he represented, he proposed: "Britain—The Saxon Bible which she gave to the world has made her great in he noblest sense of the word." [Applause.]

Mr. Barrett, of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick, appeared for them, and spoke at considerable length. He paid some left-handed compliments to the memory of St. Patrick and the priestly character, and wound up by proposing the health, which, he said, an Irish friend had suggested to him, of "The Prince of Wales." [Applause.]

Mr. Broadhead, of the St. Nicholas Society, proposed on its behalf, without any preface whatever, "Health and prosperity to the St. George's Society of the City of New-York. [Loud applause.]

Mr. Windmuller, of the German Society, proposed the sentiment: "May the St. George's Society always go ahead in benevolence."

The next toast, "The statesmen of Great Britain," was responded to by Rev. Dr. Vinton. On rising he was greeted with the loudest applause. He returned his expression of gratitude to the St. George's Society for the honor of reflecting him as one of their chaplains. He was startled by the flight of time, for, just ten years ago, he had occupied the same position, and when the fraternity of nations was being cemented by the great industrial exhibition, and he felt that literature for the time was assuming the place of the clergy, and was almost forced into the belief that "Othello's occupation was gone," he felt called on to retire. He described in turn the characters of the demagogue, the diplomatist, and the politician, and awarded to England the palm of raising not these, but statesmen.

The toast of "Woman" concluded the list, but, not being responded to, the proceedings may be said to have terminated with Dr. Vinton's speech.

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

FEMALE SYMPATHY FOR LYNN.—A mass-meeting of the working-girls of New-York was advertised to be held at Botanic Hall, in East Broadway, last evening, to express sympathy for their sister-strikers of Lynn, but the small number who answered the call would seem to indicate that Lynn, like Africa, had ceased to be regarded by the "masses" a bore. Only twenty-two girls were in attendance, who occupied the front seats, and were supported in the rear by about half the number of boys, who had come to see the fun. Mr. JAS. MOORE appointed CHAS. MCCARTHY Chairman, and Mr. MCCARTHY returned the compliment by appointing Mr. MOORE Secretary. Mr. MCCARTHY stated the object of the meeting, and repeated the substance of his speech delivered while acting as Chairman of the Workingmen's Sympathy Meeting at the Cooper Institute. In answer to repeated calls for a speech from the ladies, Mrs. HAGUE, an interesting-looking, middle-aged woman, made some very sensible remarks, expressing her belief that the appropriate sphere of woman was in domestic and household work, but that when from the death or neglect of her husband she was compelled to enter another field of labor, she was entitled to the highest wages. A resolution was then adopted, expressing the sympathy of the meeting for the Lynn sisters, and appointing the following Committee to collect subscriptions in their aid: Mrs. Hague, Miss Nugent, Mrs. Johnson, Miss Seymour, Miss Fitzgerald, Miss Derthy, two Misses Pearl, Mrs. J. Moore. A collection was taken up amounting to $1 33, and the meeting adjourned to meet at the same place on Monday night next.

NO TIDINGS OF MR. KOLFF.—Mr. CORNELIUS G. KOLFF, of the firm of KOLFF & PERSHU, merchants and bankers at No. 33 Broadway, whose mysterious disappearance has already been mentioned, has not been heard of. Mr. K. took the nine o'clock boat for Staten Island last Wednesday morning, for the purpose of inspecting a cottage which was in course of preparation for his Summer residence. For ten days previous he had had an attack of fever, from which he had not recovered sufficiently to attend to business in the City, and his friends thought that a trip down the Bay would be beneficial. He was last seen, shortly before 10 o'clock, walking on the Turnpike-road, at Tompkinsville, near Jersey-street, and within a few rods of the house which he proposed to occupy, but although strict inquiry has been made and a thorough search of the neighborhood has been prosecuted, no further trace of his movements has been discovered. We learn that Mr. KOLFF, while traveling in Mexico some four years since, was severely wounded on the back of the head with a sabre, in a conflict with a band of robbers by whom his company had been attacked, and that ever since that misfortune symptoms of mental aberration have manifested themselves whenever he suffered from an attack of fever. The supposition is that in one of these fits of hallucination he made away with himself. Two dollars and a few cents was all the money he had with him at the time he disappeared.

BODY FOUND IN THE WATER AT WEST FARMS.—The body of a man, supposed to be about thirty-five years of age, stoutly built, and 5 feet 8 inches in height, was found upon the beach at West Farms on Sunday, and from a wound upon the back of the head, apparently caused by a musket-ball, it was supposed to be that of one of the victims murdered on the sloop Spray. Coroner VALENTINE held an inquest upon the remains yesterday afternoon. Two of the townsmen of Capt. LEETE were present, Mr. THOMAS GRISWOLD, of the sloop Lyman Dennison, of Guilford, and Capt. COE. Dr. E. D. KING had previously made a post-mortem examination, and found that the perforation of the skull had been caused by trepanning. The body had been in the water a long time, and was so much decomposed that no lineament was sufficiently distinct for recognition. A pair of thick, sewed boots and the remants of a pair of pants, were all that remained upon the body. The witnesses were of the opinion that it was neither of the men belonging to the Spray. The case was adjourned to Wednesday.

MEETING OF THE OUTBOARD SHIP-JOINERS.—A third meeting of the ship-joiners was held last evening, at No. 70 Avenue D, WM. POWELL in the Chair. They represent that during the last four years the remuneration for a day's work has been reduced so much that men with families have suffered. From an average of $2 on new work and $2 25 on old work, for a day of 9 hours, the pay has fallen to $2 on the ten-hour system on old work, and from 12 to 14 shillings on new, for ten hours' work. Inferior workmen are employed at even lower rates than these. The movement is for the purpose of reinforcing the old standard of wages. The greater portion of the outboard mechanics have agreed to combine for this purpose. It was resolved to fix the time for the strike at the next meeting. A resolution was adopted at a former meeting, that if any contractor should employ inferior men at lower wages than the above, that the strikers would not work upon the job until the obnoxious person was discharged. They adjourned to meet on Saturday evening, 28th instant.

A NEW PRODUCE EXHANGE.—An effort is now being made to establish a new Produce Exchange. It is proposed to purchase the building known as the Mead property, bounded by Whitehall, Pearl, Moore and Water streets, and to make all necessary alterations therein. To accomplish this object, it is contemplated to begin with a capital of $225,000, to be divided into shares of $50 each. A sum of $155,000 will buy the property, and $45,000 will be sufficient to cover all expenditures for alterations, &c. A subscription book has been opened, and about $50,000 worth of shares already subscribed for. It is thought that the whole amount of shares can be easily disposed of in a few days. When subscriptions to the amount of $125,000 shall have been received, measures will be immediately taken to secure the property and to alter it to suit the requirements of the produce trade.

YOUNG STILWELL NOT YET FOUND.—MR. STILWELL has caused the cove in which the boat containing young STILWELL and his tutor was capsized to be diligently dragged, but as yet without finding the body. It is earnestly desired that those on board the vessel, the movements of which gave so much ground for hope, should immediately communicate with Mr. STILWELL. The vessel referred to came into the cove or bay opposite Whitestone, and immediately northeast of Zerega Point, at about 6½ o'clock, on the evening of Tuesday, the 17th inst. She was seen to drop her jib and lower the peak of her mainsail. After remaining in this condition about thirty minutes, her jib was raised, the peak of her mainmast was lifted, and she went by Fort Schuyler into the Sound.

COLLISION ON THE NORTH RIVER.—Yesterday afternoon the ferry-boat Phœnix, plying between Hoboken and Christopher-street Slip, wns run into by the steamtug Fraser, coming up the river with a sloop in tow. The Phœnix had about twelve feet of her bulwarks carried away, and one'end of the ladies' cabin was crushed. Fortunately the seats in the vicinity were unoccupied, and no person was injured. The panic which prevailed amongst the passengers was not diminished by the knowledge that the Phœnix was built in 1826, when she bore the name of the Fairy Queen.

THE ADRIATIC SPOKEN.—The ship Cultivator, Capt. RUSSELL, which arrived on Saturday, reports having spoken the steamer Adriatic on the 16th inst., at 6 A. M., in lat. 40° 10', long. 63° 33', a distance of about 500 miles from Sandy Hook. Capt. R. says she was going at the rate of 15 knots per hour.

CONCERT FOR A WORTHY OBJECT.—There will be a Grand Concert given this evening, at the City Assembly Rooms, No. 444 Broadway, for the benefit of the House of Mercy. If the programme were not so attractive, the object of the entertainment should fill the house.

THAT STAND OF COLORS.—The Washington Star says that the Common Council of that city has it in contemplation to invite the National Rifles to escort to New-York the stand of colors voted to the Seventh Regiment some weeks since.

OUR CITY GOVERNMEMT.

THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

NO MORE TRANSFERS OF MARKET STALLS—THE CENTRAL PARK APPROPRIATION PASSED—FAILURE OF THE JAPANESE APPROPRIATION.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen last evening, Alderman CORNELL in the Chair, a resolution was adopted directing the City Inspector not to transfer any stand or stands in the markets of this City, or grant any permits therefor, until further ordered by the Board. Another resolution was adopted, directing the City Inspector to forthwith report the number of stands transferred and permits granted, and to whom, since the 1st of January last, in the several markets of this City.

The Comptroller was directed to draw his warrant for $2,500, for the expenses of the Committee at the Sanitary Convention to be held in Boston.

A resolution was adopted requesting the opinion of the Corporation Counsel in relation to the power of the Common Council to prevent incumbrances on piers owned by private persons.

A resolution to pave Catharine-street with Belgian pavement was referred to the Street Committee.

The resolution directing the Comptroller to draw his warrant in favor of Col. Lefferts, of the Seventh Regiment, for $5,000, for camp equipage, was laid over under the rule.

The report in favor of giving the Hudson Navy (a boat club) a slip foot of Christopher-street, was laid over.

The resolution appropriating an additional $250,000 for the Central Park came in from the Board of Councilmen, and was concurred in unanimously.

The Street Commissioner, in reply to a resolution of the Board in relation to the contract for the removal of Diamond Reef, sent a communication stating that the contract price was $35,000, and the contractors had received $25,000. He also stated that about three-fourths of the work had been completed, and that it would be resumed immediately.

The resolution to appropriate $25,000 for the reception of the Japanese Embassy was called up, when Alderman BOOLE moved that it be laid over, in order to give time to ascertain the probable cost. He had understood from the Committee of the Board of Councilmen that it would cost $40,000; and he thought it would cost more than $25,000.

Alderman BRADY made a very energetic speech in favor of giving the Embassy a very liberal reception.

Alderman STARR thought it well to postpone the matter, in order that an approximate estimate of the necessary expense might be made.

Alderman BOOLE moved to amend, by inserting an appropriation of $30,000, which was adopted; then the resolution, as amended, was lost for want of a constitutional majority; that motion was reconsidered, and then it was laid on the table.

After a motion to adjourn had been lost, Alderman BOOLE called the matter up again, with a like result.

The Board then adjourned.

BOARD OF COUNCILMEN.

EMPLOYES OF THE CROTON BOARD—WHO ARE THEY?—A PLUM FOR THE JOINT SANITARY COMMITTEE—ASSESSMENT FUND BONDS.

At the meeting of the Board of Councilmen, last evening, a resolution was adopted calling upon the Croton Board to report the names and salaries of all their employes; also, the names of the persons upon whose recommendation they were appointed, and whether any of the employes hold other positions under the State, City, or Federal Government.

A resolution was adopted setting apart a room in Jefferson Market for the use of Company E, Seventy-ninth Regiment, for drilling on Friday evenings.

The Board concurred with the Aldermen in the reference back to the Fire Commissioners of the complaint against Engine Company No. 21.

An invitation to attend an exhibition of the new fire alarm apparatus just erected in the Park was accepted. The Board named 3 P. M. on Tuesday, the 24th, (to-day,) for the visit.

The Board concurred with the Aldermen in appropriating $2,500 for the expense of the Joint Special Committee to attend the coming National Sanitary Convention at Boston. There are fourteen members of the Committee. This is nearly $180 per man. A resolution, directing the Comptroller to draw his warrant for the money upon the order of the Chairman of the Committee, was laid over under the rule. A concurrence was also passed, directing the City Inspector to deliver one thousand loads of manure to the Society for the Reformation of Juvenile Delinquents, at such wharf on the East River as they may desire. Also, in authorizing the Comptroller to issue bonds to be known as assessment fund bonds to supply the deficiencies in assessment funds caused by delay in collecting assessments. The deficiency is $415 000 19.

The Board adjourned to Thursday evening.

POLICE COMMISSIONERS.

MEETING OF THE BOARD—THE WORKING OF THE NEW SANITARY POLICE—RUMORED RESIGNATION OF GEN. PILSBURY.

The Police Commissioners met yesterday. John Cokeley was dismissed the force for intoxication. The resignations of W. H. Bennett and Richard Austin were received. Mr. BOWEN informed the Board that, under the provisions of the new law, the Sanitary Police had been organized and were at work. Six or eight tenement-house owners were ordered to cleanse their premises on pain of having them cleansed by the authorities—the cost to be a lien on the property. It is believed by Mr. BOWEN that the sanitary condition of this City will be greatly improved by the action of this force, so as to affect materially the health of the City during the coming Summer. As the law gives the sanitary company and the Police judges summary power to abate all nuisances on ferry-boats, tenement-houses, edifices suspected of being unsafe, manufactories and slaughter-houses, if these powers are exercised in the manner that Mr. BOWEN declares they will be, our City will present a novel spectacle of cleanliness during the coming warm season.

The rules and regulations of the force under the new law were discussed, but no definite action taken.

It is rumored that General Superintendent PILSBURY has resigned his Commissionership, and that his resignation has been accepted by the Governor. The reasons assigned for this are that he was disappointed in not receiving the Presidency of the Board, and thus virtually his old position of General Superintendent. It is stated, indeed, that the plan first designed in establishing the new commission, was to give Mr. PILSBURY that position. Possibly the General's resignation may be accompanied, as before, with a letter of explanation.

Police Reports.

THE CASE OF MR. PHELPS, DEAF-MUTE.

Mr. O. F. Phelps, the deaf-mute who was arrested in this City last week on a charge of having stolen $415 and a gold watch from a gentleman in Charleston, S. C., and subsequently discharged, desires us to publish the following

CARD.

NEW-YORK, Saturday, April 21, 1860.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

Having seen in the New-York papers a statement of my arrest for stealing $415 and a gold watch, and subsequent discharge, because there was no evidence against me, I would like to say further, in relation to my leaving Charleston in a hurry, that I had been there several days engaged in my business of Card Writing, and had made it known that I intended to leave before I did. Having been detained by business beyond my appointed time, I was, of course, in a hurry to get ready, as the steamship Marion was to sail for New-York in about half an hour. The charge was without foundation entirely, and I think it a great wrong to attempt such injuries to the character of a respectable and honest person. I had made my intention to leave Charleston known to some persons, one day previous to my departure.

Yours, O. F. PHELPS, Deaf Mute.

AN AUDACIOUS ROGUE.

Yesterday morning the room of Mrs. Jane Chambers, at No. 646 Hudson-street, was entered by means of skeleton keys, by Joseph McLarin, a native of Troy, 17 years of age, who bolted the door inside, leisurely packed up the lady's property, with which he was about to decamp, when he was encountered by officer Ricksby, of the Ninth Precinct, who attempted to arrest him. He was deterred, however, at sight of a loaded pistol, which the scoundrel presented at his head, but rapping for assistance, Officer Haring came up, and the two started after the youth, who by this time was running rapidly up Hudson-street, followed by a heterogeneous crowd of men and boys. The fugitive was finally overtaken, and a loaded pistol, with $10 worth of jewelry, which Mrs. Chambers subsequently identified as belonging to her, were found in his possession. Justice KELLY committed him for trial.

HYMEN IN BONDS.

The frequenters of a saloon in Maiden-lane have lately become very enthusiastic on the subject of lotteries, by the announcement that Gustave Hymen, a young Pole of their acquaintance, had drawn $700 in one of the Georgia concerns. Hymen did not deny the rumor, but induced two of the most sanguine who questioned him upon the subject to pay him $10 for investment in the same lottery, which would be certain to bring them a handsome prize, as a Georgia telegraphic operator with whom he divided the profits, always informed him of the drawn numbers in season to telegraph back and make a "hit." After obtaining the money Hymen disappeared until yesterday, when, having been found by his victims, he was taken before Justice CONNOLLY and held for examination on a complaint for violation of the lottery laws.

AT THE MAYOR'S OFFICE.

A mock-auction case, presenting the only novel feature of particular greenness on the part of the victim, came before the first Marshal yesterday, but it is only named as affording evidence as to the insufficiency of the laws to put down this kind of swindling. The law requiring all auctioneers to procure a license from the Mayor, on giving a bond to the City in $2,000 in addition to the $10,000 required by the State, does not affix a penalty for selling without such license, nor is there any provision in the bond for penalty or punishment, and any auctioneer who has given the State bond for $10,000, can not be prevented from selling, even though he does not take out the City bond for $2,000.

AMATEUR GAMBLERS.

On Sunday afternoon eight young men were found by Officer Costello, of the Sixth Ward, sitting around a table in the house No. 26 Mulberry-street, each with a pile of coin before him, which he hazarded on the result of a game at cards. The sport of the party was stopped at once, their "lay-out board," cards, money and other implements bagged, and themselves subsequently arrested and required by Justice CONNOLLY to give bail on charges of disorderly conduct. The names of the accused are Joseph Yellowrick, Abraham Solomon, Jacob Hunger, Jacob Denseth, Abram Stearn, Lewis Cole, Lewis Solomon and Noah Livingston.

A LITTLE GIRL BURNED TO DEATH.

On Sunday morning Mary Ann McGovern, a child 10 years of age, residing with her mother in Eleventh-avenue, between Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh streets, was so severely burned, in consequence of her dress having ignited at a stove from which she was removing a kettle of boiling water, that her death resulted soon afterwards, at the New-York Hospital, whither she had been conveyed. Coroner SCHIRMER held an inquest upon the body.

INSECURE QUARTERS.

Abraham White, alias Wright, a shoemaker 20 years of age, was locked up in a cell of the Eleventh Precinct Station-house, on Sunday night, on charge of burglary; but a few hours later, when the door-man visited the cell, the lock was found to have been wrenched off and its late occupant had departed.

Coroners' Inquests.

THE FATAL ENCOUNTER IN ORCHARD-STREET.

An inquest upon the body of THOMAS GREENAN, the man who was stabbed in a street encounter with CHARLES ROBERT, a young German, at the corner of Orchard and Canal streets, was held yesterday by Coroner JACKMAN. JOHN CARNEGIE, the friend of deceased, deposed that in passing down Orchard-street, about 12 o'clock on Saturday night, deceased jostled against one of three men who were approaching from the opposite direction, whereupon a fight ensued, during which both fell upon the walk, and when deceased got up he cried, "I'm stabbed." SAMUEL CALHOUN testified that he saw ROBERT soon after the affray occurred, standing at the doorway of a saloon near the corner of Canal and Orchard streets, and heard him remark, "He kill a man." Very soon afterwards an officer came up and took the prisoner into custody, and when they reached the Station-house he claimed an umbrella that had been found at the scene of the affray. Officer WAIGHT, who apprehended the prisoner, deposed that a rag and some small change found in his pockets were covered with blood, and the lining of the pockets also had red spots upon it. PETER and GILBERT GAYARE, both Germans, swore that they were in the prisoner's company, at the corner of Canal and Orchard streets, at the time of the affray, when deceased and another person came up and said to ROBERT, "Hallo, Bub!" and offered to fight him. Finally, deceased struck the prisoner, and the two clinched, both falling to the ground in the struggle. They saw no knives drawn, but went away before the fight had terminated. The testimony of Drs. GALLAGHER and BEACH, who made the post mortem examination, was then taken, when the case was given to the jury, who soon returned a verdict that "Deceased came to his death by wounds inflicted with some instrument by CHARLES ROBERT, while engaged in a street fight, on the 21st of April, 1860. The prisoner is 21 years of age, and resides at the corner of Orchard and Division streets. He persistently denies his guilt. At the conclusion of the inquest the Coroner committed him to prison.

ANOTHER DEATH FROM VIOLENCE.

HENRY DEDRICKSON, the Swedish sailor, whose skull was fractured on the night of the 7th instant by a blow with a slung shot or heavy club, at the corner of Washington and Carlisle streets, died yesterday morning at the New-York Hospital in consequence of his injuries. Four sailors, named JEREMIAH MURPHY, RICHARD WILLIAMS, JOHN GREENWOOD and JOHN MOSS, were apprehended on suspicion of having inflicted the violence, as they were known to be inmates of a rival house to that in which deceased resided, and between the respective boarders of which establishments a bitter feud was known to exist. These men are now in the Tombs, and the investigation attending the circumstances of the case, which Coroner SCHIRMER is to prosecute to-day, will probably result in showing whether or not they are guilty of the offence of which they are suspected.

FOUND IN THE RIVER.

The body of a man, apparently 35 years of age, and dressed in laborer's clothes, was found, yesterday morning, in the water at Pier No. 54, East River. Coroner SCHIRMER held an inquest, but did not ascertain the name of the deceased. A verdict of death from supposed drowning was rendered.

R. R. R.

ROGERS & RAYMOND have the pleasure of announcing that their stock of Gentlemen and Boys Spring Clothing, at their New Store, No. 214 Broadway, under the Museum, is now ready, and that it exhibits an almost endless variety of dress, business, and professional costume. MISCELLANEOUS.

The insurrection in Sicily is spreading, and the disaffected troops from Naples continues.

An insurrection has broken out in Naples. The Royal troops carried the convent by assault, after the having made a breach, and the rebels and their arms were captured, and the demonstration in Naples is crushed. The streets were cleared by patrols.

The King of Sardinia was about to make a tour of inauguration through his new dominions, the British Ambassador, (by orders from London,) and the Sardinian Court accompanying him. The Parliament of Turin would adjourn to enable the members to join the Royal cortige.

GARIBALDI had arrived at Turin and taken his place in the Chamber of Representatives.

Accounts from Turin state that the proceedings of Parliament have been interrupted by a sad event, Gen. CAGLIA, aged 76, the father of the House, having been struck with apoplexy and remaining in a hopeless condition.

GERMANY.

There has been a great Anti-Austrian demonstration at Pesth, the Capital, the occasion being the funeral of a student who died of injuries received from the police in the recent demonstration. Six thousand persons followed the corpse to the grave amidst patriotic cries. The police did not interfere, and there was no disorder.

The Grand Duke of Baden, despite the vote of the Second Chamber, had proclaimed the independence of the Catholic Church. He declares that the provisions of the concordat shall be sanctioned and special laws ordained.

The German States of the Rhine are making special defensive preparations.

It remains very improbable that Austria will allow herself to become a member of a congress or conference, whoever may be the proposing parties of such a diplomatic meeting. The conviction seems to prevail here that she has nothing to hope from the Powers just now, and that the best policy is for her to keep aloof until another revolution of the wheel of Fortune has taken place.

RUSSIA.

To put a stop to the exportation of silver money beyond their Asiatic frontiers, the Russian Government have resolved to diminish the intrinsic value of their coin by 15 per cent.

CHINA.

A Chinese mail, dated Peking, Feb. 3, has arrived in St. Petersburg, of which the following are the most interesting advices:

SENYAN, the hero of the Peiho, has been called to Peking, to take his place in a council of war convened for the purpose of devising the best measures of defence against the expected attack of England and France. Independently of the Gulf of Pechelee, Chanhaihuan is being provided with strong fortifications, and a Mongol and Tartar force has been directed in that locality. His Excellency HUACHANA, the same who took a part in the late negotiations with the European Powers, has been granted an audience of the Emperor, and immediately after this mark of condescension on the part of his sovereign found it advisable to dispatch himself by poison. HUI-LJAU is also in disgrace. I-CHAU, who signed the Aihun treaty with Russia, had to spend a fortnight in the antechamber of the Emperor, when he was at length admitted. It is not mentioned whether the interview was conducive to that dignitary's bodily welfare, or the reverse.

NEW-JERSEY.

FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDENTS.—On Saturday last, as the 7 A. M. Dunkirk Express on the New-York and Erie road was rounding a curve near the Goshen depôt, a girl 13 years of age, daughter of RICHARD MCGOWEN, was struck by the locomotive, throwing her some 50 feet and causing injuries that resulted in her death a short time afterwards. The girl was walking on the track for the purpose of ascertaing if her father, who is a brakeman, was upon a freight train which was coming in at the time from the opposite direction. An inquest was held and a verdict of accidental death was rendered....At Paterson, the same day, a boy whose name was not ascertained, was killed by attempting to jump upon some cars attached to the drill-engine, but missing his hold, fell under the wheels and was instantly killed.

THE JERSEY CITY MURDER.—The Coroner informed the Jury, in the case of the murdered woman found in the water, that he was without further information; and he accordingly adjourned the inquest for a week.

SENT UP.—GEORGE GRIFFIN, who was arrested on Sunday morning in Jersey City with some deeds, clothing, and other articles in his possession, was sent to the County Jail yesterday morning by Recorder BEDFORD for 60 days.

BROOKLYN INTELLIGENCE.

SERMONS FROM STONES.—Rev. WILLIAM ALVIN BARTLETT, of the Brooklyn Tabernacle, last Sunday evening preached a sermon to his people from Exodus, XII., 41. His subject was: Moving, as a Means of Christian Discipline. He illustrated the great principle of motion in the Universe, dwelt upon the necessity of activity in the Church, and then narrowed his theme to the present day and time, drawing from the great moving-day of Israel eloquent lessons for those of his congregation who were about to "rehearse Exodus."

COMMON COUNCIL.—A regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held last evening, when the report of the Committee on Water-Rates was taken up for consideration. Without reaching a vote upon the report, the Board adjourned to Thursday evening.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.—JAMES SNYDER, farmer, residing in Hempstead, was stopped near the toll-gate just east of Jamaica, Saturday night, by two ruffians, who robbed him of all the money on his person, amounting to about $5, and then let him depart without injury.

INSTALLATION.—Rev. T. L. CUYLER will be installed Pastor of the Park Presbyterian Church, Brooklyn, this evening. Rev. Prof. HITCHCOCK will deliver the discourse.

Staten Island.

PROBABLE MURDER.—Early on Sunday morning, Mr. JOHN WOOD, a respectable citizen of Rossville about 50 years of age, was found lying in a barnyard, about three miles from home. He had received a severe cut across the temple, and his body was much bruised and mangled. The appearance of his clothes gave evidence that he had gone through with a severe struggle, for they were nearly torn from him, and his pockets had been rifled of their contents. Mr. WOOD left home about 8 o'clock on Saturday evening, to purchase a quantity of eggs, and after having accomplished his errand, started for home, stopping on the way at a house in the neighborhood, which he left about 10 o'clock. A spot on the road near where Mr. WOOD was found, was trampled as if there had been a serious contest, and it is generally supposed that the unfortunate man, although he had but little money on his person, was attacked for the purpose of robbery. Mr. WOOD was a temperate and peaceable man, and was much respected by his neighbors. It is doubtful if he survives his injuries. The authorities of Richmond County are making every exertion to detect the perpetrators of the assault.

STATEN ISLAND RAILROAD.—The Staten Island Railroad was opened to the public, yesterday, as far as Ettingville, about eight miles from Vanderbilt's Landing. It is expected that it will be completed, in a month, to Tottenville—sixteen miles—where it will connect by ferry boat with the trains to Philadelphia, by the Camden and Amboy line. During the Winter, when the Kills are closed by ice, this route will be of practical advantage. Its officers are ALBERT JOURNEAY, Jr., President; CHARLES H. CHANDLER, Secretary; STEPHEN SEGUINE, Treasurer.

PROGRESS OF THE REVOLUTION—THE REBELS CONFIDENT—AFFAIRS IN NEW-GRANADA.

Files of El Comercio of La Guayra to April 3, are at hand. From official accounts, it appears that the Government forces were getting the upper hand of the rebels. Their General, RUDOLFO CALDERON, had surrendered himself.

A report that four schooners and a brigantine had been seen at anchor near the island of Blanguilla was explained on the 27th of March, by a proclamation issued by the rebels, and dated on that day, which claimed that a squadron of four schooners and a brigantine was on its way to the coast. It also affirmed that the amnesty of the Government had not produced the beneficial results which were expected to result from it. FALCON has received supplies from New-Granada, and was reorganizing his forces; SOTILLO was making preparations to attack Maturin, Barcelona and Cumana. From these signs of activity on the part of their leaders, the rebels professed to be confident of their speedy triumph.

The British Vice-Consul, FREDERICK STACEY, Esq., had been convicted of conspiracy against the Government, and sentenced to perpetual banishment.

The Senate had not yet commenced its session for want of a quorum.

The Government had called into service a large corps of volunteer riflemen. Nearly all the able-bodied citizens of La Guayra had offered their services to the State.

From New-Granada we have news that a great revolution had broken out, with Gen. MOSQUERA at the head of it. The object is to create an independent republic out of the State of Canca, and part of Ecuador.

From Mexico.

ENGLISH MEDIATION—JUDGMENTS FOR PROPERTY DESTROYED AT VERA CRUZ—A NEW FORCED LOAN.

Letters to the New-Orleans Picayune of the 18th give details of the intelligence already received from Vera Cruz via Havana. One dated Mexico, March 28, says:

There was an attempt at a pronunciamiento made here last night by the Puros, but, as usual, it failed for want of management, energy and courage, qualities of which the Liberals of Mexico are entirely void.

The English Government have offered a plan of reconciliation between the belligerent parties. It is said that the Vera Cruz people have accepted it, while MIRAMON continued his fire upon the town two days after the mediation had been offered, thereby, it seems to me, giving the most positive refusal. However, Mr. MATTHEWS, the British Minister here, has presented his note to the Government in this city, the reply to which has not yet been given.

The Conservative party are extremely dejected, and the English intervention frightens them much.

The proposition is this: A truce of six months at the utmost, during which a Congress is to be elected by the different States of the Republic. This Congress is to be united in Jalapa, declared neutral ground, under the protection of the English Government, and if necessary of English troops. The Congress voted by the nation is to make a new Constitution, which will be recognized, protected and enforced by England.

The Picayune says that President JUAREZ has issued a decree indemnifying all the sufferers by the late bombardment of Vera Cruz, deriving the means for doing so from the sale of Church property confiscated to the State last July. From the terms of the decree, however, it would appear that the benefits of the same extend only to those who shall repair their losses. The certified expenses of the repairs must be presented to the Treasury Department, and only upon such presentment will cognizance be taken of them. This, hard as it may seem, will doubtless insure the reconstruction of the city. As to the amount of property destroyed, necessarily, in defence of the city, and by the bombardment itself, the best authorities estimate it at between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000. It is expressly stated, however, that the losses have fallen heavier upon the friends of the besieging party, who are entitled to no indemnity.

The correspondent of the Trait d'Union, writing from the City of Mexico, on the 27th, says that the Government is again sorely in want of money, and that there is talk of a new forced loan of 5 per cent. on all capital.

By a decree recently issued, Mr. HAMMEKER, who had been engaged in constructing a railroad from the capital to Tacubaya, had been subjected to heavy loss.

The Young Men's Christian Confederation.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE CONVENTION AT NEW-ORLEANS.

At the fourth day's session of the Convention of Young Men's Christian Associations, at New-Orleans, the following suggestions were received from the Committee on Associations:

That associate members be received into the several Associations without any restrictions save that of voting on questions involving the Constitution or holding the offices of President and Vice-President.

That in other respects they be entitled to all the rights and privileges, and subjected to all the various labors devolving upon active members. That all practicable influences be exerted upon them by the active members to induce them to attend the regular and devotional meetings, and use all prudent means to interest them and fully to enlist their feelings in the cause by assigning them work to do, and allowing them free and unrestrained participation in all the discussions and deliberations of the body.

Let them hold office and vote, and let them be placed upon Committees at the discretion of the President. Thus will they soon be induced to feel that they are really members of the Young Men's Christian Association, and will engage more actively with us.

Your Committee, in order to give tangible form to these suggestions, recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That it be recommended that the associate membership be at owed to vote on all questions save those touching the Constitution; and that they be eligible to hold any office except those of President and Vice-President, and that, saving these restrictions they be otherwise entitled to all the rights and privileges pertaining to active membership.

The report was amended by inserting "Corresponding Secretary," and, after further discussion, was indefinitely postponed.

The Committee on Confederation reported that five cities had been presented to their consideration at which to hold the next Convention, viz.: Cleveland, Ohio; Chicago, Ill.; Louisville, Ky.; St. Louis, Mo., and Washington, D. C., a sixth city was Cincinnati, Ohio. The Committee further reported that they recommended Louisville, Ky. As the most desirable place in which to hold the next Convention.

A Reward of Merit.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

Will you please to suggest to the Common Council the propriety of making an appropriation to pay the expenses of the patriotic Legislators who continued in session, without fee or reward, for nearly a week after the constitutional close of their term, for the exclusive benefit of this City? A public dinner, also, would not be inappropriate. Let them even be presented with the Freedom of the City, but not in a gold snuff-box. Such an act might be thought to have an offensive allusion. But beg the Aldermen to omit showing them our public institutions; it would be decidedly indelicate. Some of these, particularly on Blackwell's Island, might awaken disagreeable reflections. CIVIS.

LAW INTELLIGENCE.

The Schiedam Schnapps Case.

Udolpho Wolfe vs. Emile Goulard.—This is an action to restrain the defendant from the manufacture and sale of Schiedam Schnapps, the plaintiff alleging that he alone is entitled to the use of that trade mark, having first introduced it.

The case was up some time since before Justice INGRAHAM, at Chambers, on a motion for injunction, which, however, after a long investigation, was denied. The action is now on for trial before Justice LEONARD, at the Special Term of the Supreme Court, and the parties whose affidavits were taken on the former motion are now on the stand for examination. The case is still on, and will probably occupy several days.

Henry E. Davies, Jr., and John Slosson for plaintiff; Gilbert Dean for defendant.

TURNER BROTHERS, Manufacturers of TURNER'S Forest Wine Bitters, Blackberry Brandy, Ginger Wine, Cordials and Syrups of every description.

We use no stock in our manufacture except of the very finest quality.

Our goods improve by age, and keep in every climate, giving the wholesale dealers a decided advantage in keeping large stocks, as the improvement in quality will add more to their value than double the interest on the money. They are sold for export to nearly every country in the habitable globe, and very highly recommended for their extra quality and fine flavor by natives of the extreme North, as well as in the tropical climates, where fevers are prevalent.

This is the sixteenth year (1860) since establishing our business, (we are pleased to say.) In that time the same has increased over five hundred per cent., with the present increase at a much greater rate, and is now the largest and most extensive of anything of the kind either in Europe or America.

The Bank return this afternoon shows a larger reduction in Loans and Discounts than from the marked ease in Money last week was generally anticipated on the Street. We hear that the amount of mercantile bills falling due in the course of the present month is largely in advance of the new paper now making; so that the present and last week's curtailments are wholly of an involuntary nature. Some of the Banks we know have not been able to fill up their lines without taking short paper at 5 P cent. P annum, and others have accepted October bills at 6 P cent. The Specie average is about the figure anticipated. The net Deposit line is heavily reduced by the large volume of daily exchanges on settlements through the Clearing-house, which average $25,908,000 P day, as against $24,253,000 P day through the previous week. The market for Money to-day shows no change in rates from last week, and scarcely the average movement in either Discounts or temporary Loans. The further advance to 5 P cent. in London, reported (somewhat unexpectedly) by telegraph this forenoon, produces the rather strange anomoly, an exact correspondence in the rates of Money in New-York and London, and of course the first impression is that this state of things cannot long be maintained. Under ordinary circumstances it probably would not be, but the season is an exceptionable one in the way of the Foreign Exchanges, and while the rates may soon be advanced to Specie point, thus inducing a moderate export movement of Bullion, the demand, present or prospective, is not such as to threaten disturbance to the ease in the Money market. The terms on London have been raised to 109¼ for the Persia's mail, and on Paris to f.5.16¼. The business thus far is moderate, though the Bankers report that about as much is done at the advance as under the recent stereotyped figure of 108¾. On Paris the rate is f.5.16¼. The engagements of Bullion for this steamer promise only $600,000 at present. Sight Bills are offered on London at 110, and even a small fraction less, which is cheaper than the 60 day rate, allowing 5 P cent. interest on the other side.

The cause of the additional rise in interest at the Bank of England is not reported by telegraph. The latest dispatch comes from Queenstown, so that we shall not have the particulars until the arrival of the Cunarder of April 14, due at this port about Thursday next. The inference, from the very moderate effect on the English Funds, is, that the trade demand for Money, rather than any political event or apprehension, influenced the change. The mail by the Hamburg steamer is to April 10 from London, when Money was lower on the Stock Exchange, and in no very active request at the Bank. One of the Australian Railways was a large borrower, and this demand assisted to keep the rate to 4½ for short discounts. American Securities, with the exception of Illinois Central, were rather firmer. The following are the latest figures:

Our Stock Exchange opened with some degree of steadiness early in the day, and the first indications were of recovery from the reaction on Saturday afternoon. But on the announcement of the English news sellers showed more eagerness to realize or put out contracts, and an additional decline of ¼@½ P cent. was accepted on New-York Central, and this stock influenced Reading and several of the Western Roads, as the dealings of the day progressed. A heavy demand, however, was shown for Galena and Cleveland and Toledo, and no very free offers were made to sell New-York Central at the decline, so that at the close in the afternoon the general feeling was rather steady than weak, New-York and Erie shares advanced to 18 P cent., while the mortgages of the Company were irregular—the firsts, seconds and thirds firm, and the fourths and fifths weaker. The State Stocks were in renewed demand, and some heavy purchases of Missouri were made at the early Board at 84⅜, though closing ¼ lower in the afternoon. The Federal 5 P cents were firm, with some considerable private purchases at 103@103¼ P cent. for the coupons, and 103¾ for the registered. A line of $70,000 of the former was sold by a Washington house to close out their interest. The general market, after an amount of business below the average of the daily sales of last week, closed on the Share list from ¼ to ⅜ P cent. below the latest quotations of Saturday afternoon: New-York Central, 79¼; Toledo, 29⅜; Rock Island, 63⅜; Galena, 63¾; Pacific Mail, 105; Panama, 136½; Michigan Guaranteed, 23¾@24; Common stock, 12¾@13; Illinois Central, 59¾; Reading, 43½@⅜; and Hudson River, 41@41½ P cent.; State and Federal stocks steady.

We take pleasure in directing the attention of our mercantile readers to the card of the new Law and Collection firm of Messrs. COWLES, WATSON & TOWNSEND, who combine, with long practice in the Courts, a wide and responsible correspondence, and ample means of their own as Collecting Agents and Attorneys.

In a note to the New-York Tribune of this morning, Mr. EDWIN C. LITCHFIELD, formerly in the exclusive management of the Michigan Southern, replies to an anonymous intimation in one of the afternoon papers that he controls the present Board, although not an active member, as follows:

First—My participation in the "control" of that Company terminated in October, 1855. Up to that time I had been one of the active managers; since that time I have not occupied any responsible position in the Company, nor have I, in any sense of the word, exercised any "control" in relation to it, except for a period of less than four months, extending from May to August, 1857.

When my connection with it ceased, in 1855, its capital stock and debt were less than $13,250,000; its gross earnings were nearly $3,000 000; its stock was current at par in the market; its dividends were satisfactory to its stockholders; its credit was unquestioned, and it had never suffered protest upon its paper, or default in payment of its interest.

Between October, 1855, and the Spring of 1857, during all which time I was absent from the country and had no part in the management of the Company, its liabilities for capital stock and debt had increased $4,500,000, and reached at the latter period $17,700,000.

For the sole purpose of aiding to provide for that part of the debt which was floating and unfunded, and which then exceeded $2,500,000, I consented, in May, 1857, to take office in the Company temporarily; and I retained that official position less than four months, when I voluntarily retired from it.

Second—During that period of less than four months the Board of Directors, of which I was a member, provided one million and a half of dollars ($1,500,000) in money, which was appropriated towards the payment of the Company's floating debt—every dollar of which debt had been contracted without any agency of mine, while I was not acting as a manager, and was not even in the country. The $1 500,000 above mentioned was provided by Capital Stock, and did not add to the Company's debt.

Third—I repeat, therefore, that my connection with the management of the Company really terminated in 1855, when its stock and debt liabilities were less than $13,250,000, and it was prosperous in all its affairs.

Fourth—I make this statement not with a view to reflect upon any administration, or upon any policy of the Company, or of any of its managers since 1855; but simply that those who are not familiar with the facts may not be misled by such misstatements as those to which I have referred. I merely add that I have not taken any part in the canvass now pending with a view to the next election; and it is perfectly well known that I prefer not again to be elected a member of the Board.
